Democrat Delegates Wooed

A Very Popular Fellow!

TELEGRAMS, TELEPHONE CALLS and letters galore greet Maurice Rapport, East Liverpool businessman and a delegate to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago whose support is sought by various presidential nomination candidates and their followers.

By ROBERT POPP

Courted like the heiress to a multi - million dollar fortune, Maurice Rapport, who controls just one of the 1,312 votes required to name the Democratic candidate for the presidency, must dig his way out of a veritable deluge of mail and telegrams and disengage himself from a busy telephone in time to head for the national convention in Chicago.

Candidates, their committees and just plain citizens have bombarded him with mail and telegrams in the last six weeks, urging their particular points of view: "Humphrey can't win. . . ." "Humphrey can't lose. . . ." "McCarthy is the peoples' choice . . ." "Keep an open mind, listen to the candidates and think over the issues. . . ."

Those messages, and others ranging across the whole spectrum of political salesmanship, have been urged on the Thompson Ave. businessman, who is one of two delegates from Ohio's 18th Congressional District.

IT WILL BE the third national Democratic convention Rapport has attended, but he cannot remember anything like the deluge of mail and telegrams that has descended upon him in the 1968 campaign.

In addition to all the partisan political urgings, he has been approached by telephone and by mail by pollsters sounding out delegate sentiment so that they could forecast which way the Ohio delegation is leaning before it heads for Chicago.

He has been telephoned by the opinion-smaplers of three national television networks, the two nationwide wire services and several national magazines and large newspapers. Some of the pollsters posed a long series of questions about the delegate's business, his family status and his prior convention experience before getting down to the crucial question: "Whom do you favor for the Democratic nomination?"

Others, more blunt, simply asked whom he would support as the party's standard-bearer.

Rapport helped pick the Democratic nominees in 1960 at Los Angeles and in 1964 at Atlantic City. But those two conventions did not produce even a fraction of the mail and telegrams that has arrived in advance of the 1968 convention. He has received over 200 pieces of mail in the last six weeks.

THE WITHDRAWAL of President Johnson, coupled with the assassination of Sen. Robert Kennedy, threw the Democratic race into such a state of flux that every remaining candidate redoubled his efforts to woo the delegates.

The mail pours in from the candidates and their committees and state and national party headquarters. And there are dozens of individual letters and postcards from throughout the United States, most of them supporting the candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

U.S. Insists Hanoi Tell If Lull Is De-Escalation

Hanoi Seen Determined On Big Push

No De-Escalation Is Official View Of U.S. Command

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey says there is an argument in the U.S. government whether the recent lull in Vietnam is a signal that North Vietnam wants to de-esculate the war. Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford says the United States awaits a clear signal that Hanoi is responding to a cutback in the area of U.S. bombing. The situation as seen by authoriative military sources in Saigon is reported in this dispatch by the AP's chief correspondent for Vietnam.

SAIGON (AP) — It is the official view of the U.S. Command in Vietnam that Hanoi at present is not planning a de-escalation of the war but remains determined to attack with greater force when the time is ripe. This assessment has been conveyed to President Johnson by Gen. Creighton Abrams Jr., the U.S. commander.

The current lull in the fighting, U.S. headquarters believes, was decided upon by Hanoi to enable its forces to bind the serious wounds sustained in this year's battles.

The lull of almost two months is no olive branch, senior officers say, although Hanoi might wish it interpreted as such in the Paris peace talks. If the slackening in the war was dictated by political decisions in Hanoi, there is little evidence of this on the battlefields of South Vietnam the officers say.

"The evidence is overwhelming that they are still determined to carry out and win the military third phase of their classic guerrilla doctrine," a ranking U.S. authority stated.

If many Vietnam watchers now believe that Hanoi is engaged in quietly de-escalating the war, Abrams does not agree. His headquarters vigorously defends intelligence reports of increasing North Vietnamese infiltration into the South.

As a result of the slackening war and increased infiltration ties say, the over-all enemy troop strength in South Vietnam has increased. They say infiltration this month, while declining, will probably come close to July's figure of almost 30,000.

It is at this point, however,

Signs Point To Assault, Official Says

Believes Slowdown Reflects Time To Prepare Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is putting the onus on North Vietnam to say directly or indirectly whether the current battlefield lull in South Vietnam is a sign of de-escalation.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford gave that word Thursday while making clear he believes the lull merely reflects a time of preparation for new enemy attacks.

Some critics have accused the administration of a hard-line interpretation of the recent decline in enemy military operations.

Their argument is that the lull should be viewed as Hanoi's response to President Johnson's bombing limitation, ordered March 31, and that the administration ought to follow through with another step of de-escalation: Stopping all the bombing.

Clifford contended in a Pentagon news conference that all signs point to the likelihood of a major new offensive, and that Hanoi could easily dispel the notion.

"Obviously, what I would regard as a clear signal would be the kind of signal that would be so easy for them to give," the defense chief said.

"All they have to do," he added, "Is to get word to us that they have reduced the level of bat,combat, and that that constitutes a de-escalatory step, and that we could get on with substantivae negotiations in Paris."

Clifford suggested as an alternative Hanoi could get its message across indirectly by further lowering the combat level "for a lengthy period of time, with some word even through third parties that this constituted a recognition on their part of the need to get on with the Paris peace talks."

The drop in enemy activity has been noted by defense officials the past seven weeks, in terms of both large-unit and small scale actions.

U.S. combat deaths have declined, too, since the Tet offensive when as many as 400 to 500 Americans were killed in a peak

Hardest Fighting In Nearly Month

U.S., South Viet Forces Kill 234 Of Red Soldiers

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces, striking with tanks, artillery and planes to support the infantrymen, today reported killing 234 North Vietnamese in the hardest fighting in nearly a month along South Vietnam's northern frontier.

Spokesmen said three South Vietnamese soldiers were killed in the clashes Thursday while 15 government troops and 15 U.S. Marines were wounded.

The flareup along the northern edge of South Vietnam resulted from vigorous patrolling by the allied forces. Elsewhere across the country, the lull in ground action continued, and there was no sign of the start of the major enemy offensive which American officers expect before mid-September.

An enemy artillery barrage of 250 rounds, fired from inside the demilitarized zone at a South Vietnamese armored patrol, was the prelude to the heaviest action on the DMZ front Thursday.

The barrage destroyed one medium tank and an armored personnel carrier, and damaged another tank and three more personnel carriers. But the government troops moved out and found a main body of enemy troops several hours later north of the Gio Linh outpost and about one mile south of the DMZ, near the east coast.

A spokesman reported 165 enemy soldiers killed in a day-long battle, 50 of them by fighter-bomber strikes, before the remaining enemy escaped.

South Vietnamese headquarters said the action was in the same area where government troops killed 107 enemy soldiers a week earlier.

To the west along the DMZ, U.S. Marines reported killing 69 North Vietnamese in three clashes, one three miles northeast of the U.S. artillery base at

Cease-Fire Call Spurned By Nigeria Military Head

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — With his troops reported advancing on Biafra's temporary capital, the head of Nigeria's military government today rejected Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie's call for a cease-fire in the civil war.

Maj. Gen Yakubu Gowon also said he would not go to Addis Ababa, the Ethiopan capital, in answer to the emperor's invitation to meet there with Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, leader of secessionist Biafra, and five other African heads of state in the Organization of African Unity's Nigerian committee.

Board Rejects New Offer In Strike By Custodians

A strike involving a pay dispute between school custodians and the East Liverpool board of education continued today following rejection of a counter offer from the workers.

The strike began Wednesday morning after members of Local 677 State, County and Municipal Employes turned down proposals from the board concerning a $300 salary boost contingent upon passage of a school levy Sept. 17.

James McKinnon, president of the local, today said a new offer was submitted to the board Thursday, revising previous vacation requests.

Some Relief Looms From Sticky Weather

Tonight's low will be in the upper 60s.

Temperatures will average near normal through Wednesday, with daily high reading generally near 80. Overnight lows will be in the lower to middle 60s. Only minor day-to-day temperature changes are indicated.

Rainfall will average three quarters to one inch occurring as showers and thundershower daily except Sunday.

Man Admits He Tried To Kill Premier

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Greek regime said today Alexander Panagoulis, an army deserter, has confessed he tried to assassinate Premier George Papadopoulos Tuesday. It also charged Andreas Papandreou, former leftist member of Parliament, with "moral responsibility" for the attempt.

The government spokesman, Byron Stamatopoulos, told newsmen that Panagoulis, 29, admitted he met with Papandreou in Paris before coming to Greece.

The spokesman also charged that Nicholas Nicolaidis, like Papandreou a member of the leftist Center Union party now outlawed, met Pangoulis in Rome and financed his activities in Greece.

Nicolaidis fled to Italy in May of 1967, a month after the military seized power. He declared that Greece "might become a Mediterranean Vietnam."

Stamatopolous said police found 13,000 drachmae ($433) in a plastic bag that Panagoulis was carrying as he tried to flee to a waiting motorboat at sea after a bomb was touched off as the premier's car was passing along a coast road.

Called Technical By Board

LBJ Hails Rate Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board describes its vote for a slight cutback in the discount rate as primarily technical. But the action offers hope this key economic indicator has begun its long slide back to normal.

"I am pleased," said President Johnson Thursday after the Fed's board of governors acted. "It should help to assure the availability of funds to finance a needed increase in the pace of homebuilding."

The discount rate is the rate of interest Federal Reserve banks charge for loans to their member banks. Since they'll be getting money more cheaply, these banks can be expected to make some downward revisions loans to the public.

The cutback is from 5½ per cent to 5¼ per cent, enough to signal the board's belief that the crisis that faced the dollar in April, when the rate rose from 5 to 5½, has subsided considerably.

Even at the new level, one source noted, the rate is high, considering levels of the 1950s and 1960s. Thus, he said, it should still have an impact on inflation and the continuing balance of payments problem.

The reduction had been widely predicted in the financial community because of a steady easing of conditions in the money market. In effect, the board followed the market because its reason for staying at 5½ per cent had largely evaporated.

The board itself described the change as "primarily technical to align the discount rate with the change in money market conditions which had occurred chiefly as a result of the increased fiscal restraint and a lower Treasury demand for financing resulting from the enactment of the tax increase and its related expenditure cuts."

The re cut was proposed to

Safe Burglar Escapes With $40, 2 Pistols

A burglar escaped with $40 and two pistols after cutting his way into a safe with an acetylene torch Thursday night or early today at the REA Express agency office at 118 E. 2nd St., police reported.

The intruder gained entrance to the building by shoving aside a piece of masonite covering a 9-by-18-inch window on the west side of the building, then reaching through the opening to remove a lock, officers said.

The burglar then went to the office on the north side of the building and burned open the safe with a cutting torch, officers reported. The missing guns are .38-caliber "police positive" revolvers, officers said.

Meanwhile, an East Liverpool district man told police his wallet containing $40 was taken by a strong-arm robber who accosted him at 3:05 this morning at Pennsylvania and Dewey Aves.

Floyd Myers of RD 1 reported a man punched him in the stomach and took his wallet. Myers called police from a public phone booth at the intersection.

He said the robber was "a large man, dressed in a blue shirt and black trousers."

Odd Facts

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750), one of the greatest composers of all time, was prolific not only as a musician, but as a father. Married twice, he sired 20 children.

The greatest number of honorary degrees conferred upon any individual American was 84—received by former U. S. President Herbert Hoover (1874-1964).

There are almost two and one-half million Americans 45 years of age or older now taking educational courses of one kind or another.

By filling in 74 acres of Lake Michigan, Northwestern University nearly doubled the size of its campus.

KING ANND QUEEN for a day were Joey Rossy, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rossy of 921 Plutus Ave., and Sarah West, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward West of Neptune Ave. They received the honor at the Jack Owen playground in Chester and reigned during the annual carnival Thursday night. Beck Moon is playground director.

New Treaty Gets Czech, Romania OK

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Romanian President and Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu and Czechoslovak Presdient Ludvik Svoboda today signed a new treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance between their two nation.

The Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported the treaty contains a declaration by the two countries that "the inviolability of the existing frontiers between European states is one of the main preconditions of European security" and that the two countries would "take all necessary measures against plots and aggression on the part of imperialist, military and revanchist forces."

The treaty is for 20 years and will become valid on the exchange of ratification documents, to be made in Bucharest shortly.

Cost Question Delays Work On Shadyside

The proposed Shadyside Ave. improvement in East Liverpool is at a standstill over the question of costs.

Thursday's meeting in the county commissioners' office at Lisbon was the third this summer.

At the first, June 17, the project was discussed in terms of $50,000 to $60,000, based on an earlier estimate.

City and county officials have studied the project several times in recent years with the understanding costs would be shared 50-50.

The project estimate had climbed to $150,000 by June 28, when the East Liverpool group met with the commissioners again. County Engineer John Ursu said the figure was given by Mosure & Fok, Youngstown consulting engineer serving his office. Engineering costs alone were estimated at $28,000.

The figure was for widening the roadway to 20 feet with an 8-foot berm on either side, from W. 8th St. to the city limits. Contractors have been reluctant to set a price on the job, engineers say, because of the steep hillside and nearby homes.

The county's share would come from the engineer's road and bridge fund. East Liverpool spokesmen said Council has no money for the project. They talked in terms of $35,000 as the best they could do. At the June 28 meeting they talked about adopting a permissive tax of $5 on auto licenses.

The outcome of the meeting yesterday was the suggestion that George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, meet with Ursu and Tom Mosure of Youngstown as soon as possible to see what kind of a plan can be worked out.

Brian Cox and Sharon Quigley represented the county engineer's office. Both Ursu and Mosure were unavailable.

In the East Liverpool group were Robert E. Vodrey, safety-service director; Bloomgren; Councilmen Frank Duffy and Robert Sample; Don Eckert, planning coordinator; Carmen Laneve, L. M. Creel who serves as spokesman for the Shadyside group, and Guy Digman, Liverpool Township trustee.

Commissioners yesterday vaated undeveloped West St. in Gaston Pl. second addition to St. Clair Township after a brief public hearing. They reserved an easement on a 10-foot-wide strip for possible future use for water and sewer lines.

Maps show West St. as being 40 feet wide and 217.8 feet long between Coolidge and Samuel Sts. Jack L. Mitcheson Sr. and Roy A. Gamble attended as the petitioners. There was no opposition.

Gosney Sparks Lisbon Meeting Of Democrats

LISBON — Pointing to the "great record of the Democratic party," Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, sparked a meeting of the Democratic Committee here this week with an appeal for a concerted effort to assure victory in November.

Gosney emphasized the responsibility of precinct committeeman and reminded that they are their party's elected representative in each precinct.

"We are going to win because we have had a great administration the last eight years," the chairman declared.

Candidates who spoke included Roy Allen, state representative; Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer; John P. Wargo, county recorder; R. Max Gard and Lew Sowards, county commissioner; Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts; Forrest Young, sheriff. County Auditor Kenneth Bell, campaign manager for County Engineer John Ursu, spoke in Ursu's behalf. Ursu is on vacation.

Plans were made to raise campaign funds and to man the Democratic booth at the County Fair.

Gosney, in defending the Johnson administration, challenged any of the candidates on either ticket to present their views to the President now if they have a "sure peace" plan.

"Let us not wait until after election; go tell the President now and I am sure he will try it. This is not a partisan war."

7 Marines Face Murder Trial In Viet

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A reviewing officer has upheld murder charges and ordered trials for seven U.S. Marines being held in the killing of five Vietnamese civilians.

An investigation of the deaths, which occurred last May, said two of the civilians were executed by a firing squad, one was hanged and two more were taken behind a building and shot. All the civilians had been taken prisoner as Viet Cong suspects, the report said.

Maj. Gen. Carl A. Youngdale, commander of the 1st Marine Division, has reviewed the charges brought by a preliminary investigation and ordered a general court martial for the seven Marines, a spokesman said. A total of 21 murder charges was brought.

No date has been set for the trials. The first will probably begin next month.

No Changes In Johnson

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's political condition may be vastly different from 1966, but doctors say his X rays show no change in his physical condition.

Press secretary George Christian said the prognosis applies to everything, including the diverticulosis the President has had since 1960 but revealed only after his checkup last week.

Johnson continued to mix a Texas holiday with some work. He approved 35 postmaster nominations, cited two South Vietnamese Army companies for heroism and approved setting up CAMPS—Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System—for combining federal and local resources to train the unemployed.

Garden City, Long Island, N.Y., was planned as a model town from its beginning n 1879 when a New York merchant bought 7,000 acres of land with the idea of converting the area into a "city of gardens," according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

New Treaty Gets Czech, Romania OK

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Romanian President and Communist party chief Nicolae Ceausescu and Czechoslovak Presdient Ludvik Svoboda today signed a new treaty of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance between their two nation.

The Czechoslovak news agency CTK reported the treaty contains a declaration by the two countries that "the inviolability of the existing frontiers between European states is one of the main preconditions of European security" and that the two countries would "take all necessary measures against plots and aggression on the part of imperialist, military and revanchist forces."

The treaty is for 20 years and will become valid on the exchange of ratification documents, to be made in Bucharest shortly.

Cost Question Delays Work On Shadyside

The proposed Shadyside Ave. improvement in East Liverpool is at a standstill over the question of costs.

Thursday's meeting in the county commissioners' office at Lisbon was the third this summer.

At the first, June 17, the project was discussed in terms of $50,000 to $60,000, based on an earlier estimate.

City and county officials have studied the project several times in recent years with the understanding costs would be shared 50-50.

The project estimate had climbed to $150,000 by June 28, when the East Liverpool group met with the commissioners again. County Engineer John Ursu said the figure was given by Mosure & Fok, Youngstown consulting engineer serving his office. Engineering costs alone were estimated at $28,000.

The figure was for widening the roadway to 20 feet with an 8-foot berm on either side, from W. 8th St. to the city limits. Contractors have been reluctant to set a price on the job, engineers say, because of the steep hillside and nearby homes.

The county's share would come from the engineer's road and bridge fund. East Liverpool spokesmen said Council has no money for the project. They talked in terms of $35,000 as the best they could do. At the June 28 meeting they talked about adopting a permissive tax of $5 on auto licenses.

The outcome of the meeting yesterday was the suggestion that George Bloomgren, East Liverpool engineer, meet with Ursu and Tom Mosure of Youngstown as soon as possible to see what kind of a plan can be worked out.

Brian Cox and Sharon Quigley represented the county engineer's office. Both Ursu and Mosure were unavailable.

In the East Liverpool group were Robert E. Vodrey, safety-service director; Bloomgren; Councilmen Frank Duffy and Robert Sample; Don Eckert, planning coordinator; Carmen Laneve, L. M. Creel who serves as spokesman for the Shadyside group, and Guy Digman, Liverpool Township trustee.

Commissioners yesterday vacated undeveloped West St. in Gaston Pl. second addition to St. Clair Township after a brief public hearing. They reserved an easement on a 10-foot-wide strip for possible future use for water and sewer lines.

Maps show West St. as being 40 feet wide and 217.8 feet long between Coolidge and Samuel Sts. Jack L. Mitcheson Sr. and Roy A. Gamble attended as the petitioners. There was no opposition.

Gosney Sparks Lisbon Meeting Of Democrats

LISBON — Pointing to the "great record of the Democratic party," Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, county Democratic chairman, sparked a meeting of the Democratic Committee here this week with an appeal for a concerted effort to assure victory in November.

Gosney emphasized the responsibility of precinct committeeman and reminded that they are their party's elected representative in each precinct.

"We are going to win because we have had a great administration the last eight years," the chairman declared.

Candidates who spoke included Roy Allen, state representative; Vincent C. Judge, county treasurer; John P. Wargo, county recorder; R. Max Gard and Lew Sowards, county commissioner; Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts; Forrest Young, sheriff. County Auditor Kenneth Bell, campaign manager for County Engineer John Ursu, spoke in Ursu's behalf. Ursu is on vacation.

Plans were made to raise campaign funds and to man the Democratic booth at the County Fair.

Gosney, in defending the Johnson administration, challenged any of the candidates on either ticket to present their views to the President now if they have a "sure peace" plan.

"Let us not wait until after election; go tell the President now and I am sure he will try it. This is not a partisan war."

7 Marines Face Murder Trial In Viet

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — A reviewing officer has upheld murder charges and ordered trials for seven U.S. Marines being held in the killing of five Vietnamese civilians.

An investigation of the deaths, which occurred last May, said two of the civilians were executed by a firing squad, one was hanged and two more were taken behind a building and shot. All the civilians had been taken prisoner as Viet Cong suspects, the report said.

Maj. Gen. Carl A. Youngdale, commander of the 1st Marine Division, has reviewed the charges brought by a preliminary investigation and ordered a general court martial for the seven Marines, a spokesman said. A total of 21 murder charges was brought.

No date has been set for the trials. The first will probably begin next month.

No Changes In Johnson

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's political condition may be vastly different from 1966, but doctors say his X rays show no change in his physical condition.

Press secretary George Christian said the prognosis applies to everything, including the diverticulosis the President has had since 1960 but revealed only after his checkup last week.

Johnson continued to mix a Texas holiday with some work. He approved 35 postmaster nominations, cited two South Vietnamese Army companies for heroism and approved setting up CAMPS—Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System—for combining federal and local resources to train the unemployed.

Garden City, Long Island, N.Y., was planned as a model town from its beginning n 1879 when a New York merchant bought 7,000 acres of land with the idea of converting the area into a "city of gardens," according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Registration Experiments

The eyes of supporters and opponents of gun control legislation are upon the widely separated cities of San Francisco and New York.

The California city's new law requiring registration of all pistols, rifles and shotguns becomes effective Friday. Citizens have until Oct. 1 to register their guns.

Traditional opposition to any type of gun control is that it violates the second amendment to the Constitution which says: "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

That opposition already has been disposed of in San Francisco. The constitutionality of the law, questioned in a suit by an association of gun clubs, has been upheld by Superior Court Judge Andrew J. Eyman.

Judge Eyman ruled the law is not in conflict with either federal or state constitutions.

New York City's deadline for registration of rifles and shotguns has passed with only about 75,000 out of an estimated 300,000 weapons in the metropolis being registered.

Other communities are waiting to see how New York City moves to get the rest of the weapons registered.

The other question, of course, is: How effective will the registration ordinances prove to be?

If positive results are shown by one or the other of the two cities, other communities likely will follow with their own programs and possibly federal action will result in a strong law.

If the results are negative, gun control will be dealt a serious blow.

Small Car Revolution

Detroit is tooling up to bite into the small car sales in America. No longer can automakers ignore growing sales of foreign imports.

Market surveys show that one of every 10 new cars purchased in the United States today is imported from Europe or Japan.

MANUFACTURERS finally are letting go of the idea that Americans won't go for small cars. For years they have been maintaining that Americans really want bigger cars to go with their bigger houses provided from bigger incomes.

They almost shucked the idea in the late 1950s when import models were claiming 12 per cent of the American market.

When Rambler offered its model to compete with small foreign cars, its output climbed 82 per cent over 1957 and cornered nearly 4 per cent of the domestic car market.

In 1960, the big three came out with compact cars selling for less than $2,000. They were an instant hit and foreign sales tailed off.

Thn the compacts had growing pains, put on the weight in the form of extras and the price increased accordingly.

Import sales are moving up again.

To combat foreign car sales in both the sports and economy sales field Ford wil introduce a small model around next April 17. It will be only slightly larger than the Volkswagen and will be powered by a 100-horsepower engine capable of getting 22 miles to a gallon of gasoline.

Ameriian Motors Corporation has a similar model in the design stage and has tentatively set introduction for the fall of 1969. General Motors also has a small car in the works.

If the Ford model, as yet unnamed, meets with the expected success, other manufacturers will be stepping up production plans.

Success of the new Detroit small cars will have a good effect on the domestic economy.

TODAY'S FOREIGN car sales cost U.S. manufacturers about $50 million a year; cost the federal government a like amount in lost income taxes; cost American taxpayers roughly 100,000 jobs and drains nearly $1.5 billion from the country.

With foreign imports well entrenched, marketing a smaller American car is somewhat risky. But if manufacturers can keep the price under $2,000 and make the design appealing, chances for starting another "Mustang revolution" are good.

Thwarting A Trade Subsidy

The move by France to get well — economically — at the expense of the United States is about to be thwarted.

After the May and June strikes in France were settled by giving workers a 10-15 per cent wage hike, the French government adopted a policy of granting subsidies to its manufacturers.

THE SUBSIDIES enable French producers to sell their products abroad at a cheaper price and create an unfair competitive edge for French products in other countries, including the United States.

But the United States government is not buying the French subsidy program.

An international trade equalizing device, little-used since the days of Nazi Germany, has been dusted off.

The device is countervailing duties and it permits the United States to raise cut-rate prices of French products and eliminates the subsidy advantage.

The duty, which applies to practically all French goods, will be lifted if the French subsidy ends Jan. 31 as it is scheduled.

The United States would like to see the French economy get back on its feet, but it is rediculous to expect American manufacturers to take the loss brought on by the large wage hikes granted to French workers.

The United States has enough economic problems without taking on the added burden lifting France over its economic hump.

Even if the United States had no economic problems, it would be foolish to permit the French to capitalize on the trade advantage.

BECAUSE as soon as France is economically strong again, President Charles de Gaulle will renew his attack on the dollar in an attempt to force its devaluation and place the world on the gold standard.

Trade is effective only so long as it is mutually beneficial to the two nations involved. An unfair advantage will cool the ardor of a trade affair in a hurry.

The United States wisely has taken steps to keep trade between France and America on an even keel.

RAYMOND MOLEY

The Part He Must Play

In a scene in his play, "Abraham Lincoln," John Drinkwater shows the President resting after a day spent visiting the troops at the front. He is lounging in a chair with his feet in another chair. Over his long legs there is an Army blanket. His young secretary, John Hay, is reading from Shakespeare's "The Tempest" the comments of Prospero about the show of magic which he has just given his guests At the end of the recital, Lincoln repeats the lines:

"We are of such stuff as dreams are made on,

Lincoln, no doubt, realized what a captive he was in the role of president. But it was the genius of the playwright that associated it with the fantasy produced by Prospero.

SHAKESPEARE more than once referred to life as a stage where each man played a part assigned to him by fate or circumstance. He would have understood the meaning of Drinkwater's use of the quotation.

There is nothing like a national convention which reminds us so much of the flight from reality which characterizes our political life. And of how a candidate or a president is governed by the part he must play.

That was the sum of my reflections after four days at Miami Beach.

The externals were all contrived make-believe. The mass of "literature" and gimcracks worth no more than it was when laborers gathered and burned it after the show was over. The claques of hired hands who know nothing of the matter except the few dollars there efforts earned. The useless freeloaders and camp followers who always infest a convention with nothing on their minds except an appetite to see a show.

The reckless violation of the truth by contenders and their managers. Expressions, in this instance, about the nonelectability of Richard Nixon which they will deny when they campaign for him later on. The speeches, a cascade of cliches and platitudes. The tireless repetition of meaningless polls. The long suspense and the final count of hard votes.

But there are rules and customs which lie beneath all this mad disorder. Rules determined by self-interest mingled with reason and deep concern for the nation as well as the party. The delegates who have seen it all before are not moved by the show. Most had their mind made up long before they came to the cosvention.

Presidents are created in this strange setting, and while, as a forneigner observed long ago, not all have been great men, with rare exceptions all have been honorable and true to the role in which they have been cast.

Nixon emerged from all this as the choice of a great party. For more than a score of years he has traveled the highways of politics. No one knows so well the fleeting moments of glory bought by enduring frustrations and defeats. And he knows that as a candidate in the next three months he must still be playing the part he has so well enacted in the months and years before. And if elected president, there is still a role to play.

NEVER AGAIN, if he is successful in November and-or January, will he be the private person of the past except in the enclave of his family. The Dick Nixon his friends have always known must be "Mr. President" then. They must meet him amid the reticence which will surround the great office he will hold.

His words will be weighed in the scale of the vast influence they will have in the corners of the nation and the world. His decisions will shake nations, including his own. He will be tightly confined for security's sake in all his comings and goings. He will be ruled as much by custom and prudence as are the royal prisoners in Buckingham Palace.

Why should anyone seek such a transformation in one's life? Why should one scorn the delights of freedom in such a role?

There are no sure answers to such wonderings. We can only know that such has been the lot of all the others who have held that great office. If he is elected, it will be decreed by his ordination.

A Stitch In Time?

VICTOR RIESEL

No Black Revolt On Nixon?

NEW YORK — Here, a contment away from Dick Nixon's think tank, I went into the Negro community to dig te black reaction to the Republican nominees, whose power bedrock at the convention was the South.

Victor Riesel

In Washington, Ray Bliss' professionals at the Republican National Committee barely had unpacked their bags when they went into secluded, moody and headachy meditation in their I St. NW think tank.

Their problem: How to get that vital big city vote from the black populace, the labor people, and the ethnic groups, now that the impression is rampant that South Carolina's Strom Thurmond had been the power broker during the closed-door in-fighting.

Strangely, the message from tough militants was calmer. The militant black leader, Roy Innis, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), which can tie up a city quicker than you can say Jackie Robinson, laid it on the line:

"I'm not as horrified over the Agnew nomination as some people seem to be," Innis said in that terse, staccato manner of his. "But I don't see that he's going to add anything.

"AS FOR DICK NIXON, I hope he understands that by black capitalism — which he has been discussing — we mean the acquisition of the instruments of black capitalism, the community-owned means of operating shops, factories, stores and industry. We're not just interested in creating 10 or 15 black capitalists. There's a big difference. But we'll see.

"CORE has proposed legislation which you and I have discussed before, and we'll see which candicate backs our version of black capitalism and industrial community ownership.

"We will encompass all types — some individuals, some small partnerships, some cooperatives. What we want is a broad black industrialism, based on community action, ownership and management, in the hands of the blacks, all the blacks in the community."

Nor were there any sharper reactions from such men as the NAACP's Roy Wilkins. Wilkins criticized the Republican unemployment plank, saying it fails to recognize that the federal government will have to create the jobs that private industry so far has not been able to provide.

He, too, will wait and see, and analyze and call a conference, and then let his followers in the big cities campaign as they see it.

From the labor people the reaction to the GOP ticket sprang from a conditioned reflex of two decades. It was not so much points South which disturbed the national labor leaders. It was the simple nomination of Dick Nixon and the points in the platform.

Gov. Agnew doesn't bother them. They're cynics. If Mr. Agnew, as a Republican, was a hero in labor circles when he was proselytizing for Nelson Rockefeller until last March, he's not automatically a bum because he's now with Dick Nixon.

NO, WHAT DOES bother the labor leaders is the toughness of the GOP's labor platform.

As one high labor spokesman said of the plank:

"It hands us praise in the first paragraph and gives us the business in the rest of the statement."

It is tough. The labor plank demands tougher enforcement of the Taft-Hartley Law and the Landrum-Griffin Act. It urges strong legislation to handle national emergency strikes. It slaps at the White House for alleged "back-door" pressure against employers during vital labor stoppages. In a few sentences it hits all of labor's sensitive nerve centers.

For example, it says that the GOP would "bar government-coerced strike settlements that cynically disregard the public interest and accelerate inflation."

This is not how the labor leaders see it. And when AFL-CIO President George Meany testifies in Chicago at about 10 a.m. next Thursday before the Democratic party platform committee, he'll sledgehammer the Republicans as only he can do it.

The public doesn't pay much attention to such nuances these circus days.. But the labor movement's own press will.

WEEK AFTER WEEK it will hammer ath-Messrs. Nixon and Agnew. These labor papers, with circulations in the millions, concentrated in the big cities and now middle-class suburbs, may have their effect.

The labor press, no doubt, will call it a "Southern conservative conspiracy" against working people.

Labor will be aiming at the "big city" vote, which these days is cast on both sides of the city line.

If the assault succeeds, and costs the Nixon-Agnew ticket a share of the megalopolises' ballots among blacks and whites, the Republicans will be hurt badly.

If not, the Nixon-Agnew ticket gets it share of the black votes, the labor ballots, the ethnic outpouring, the Republicans will win.

Berry's World

DAVID LAWRENCE

GOP Ticket

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, Republican of Kentucky, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and recently preconvention manager of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's campaign, was on the CBS television network Sunday from 12:30 to 1 p.m. in the East, which was the luncheon hour for many people or church time for millions of others in the West. So a large number of persons probably did not have a chance to get what might be called a professional analysis of the nomination of the Nixon-Agnew ticket.

Examining the verbatim transcript afterwards, this correspondent found several things of interest. First of all, Mr. Morton pointed out that the country shouldn't have been surprised at the selection of Gov. Agnew, since in 1952 Adlai Stevenson, an outstanding "liberal," picked Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama as his running mate.

THE KENTUCKY SENATOR declared that the presidential nominee has the right to select the vice-presidential candidate and that in this instance the Maryland governor "has a lot of experience in the same problems that face us as a nation, with the exception of foreign policy." The vice president, of course, now sits in at cabinet meetings and other important conferences.

In answer to a question as to what part the Southern bloc played in picking the vice-presidential nominee, Mr. Morton said that he thought the two persons who really held the South together for Nixon were Sen. John Tower of Texas and Sen. Howard Baker, Jr., of Tennessee.

Nixon's idea, Mr. Morton said, was to pick a man who was not objectionable anywhere in the United States, and that was why he selected Agnew. He described the Republican presidential nominee as follows:

"Dick Nixon is a moderate, he's a middle-of-the-roader. His record, for example, on civil rights — and we served together in the Congress — is just as liberal, if not more so, than mine, and I've never gotten less than 45 per cent of the Negro vote of Jefferson County, Ky. And his record is better than mine. So he does represent what I think is the mainstream of thinking."

Mr. Morton was asked what reasons he would give to any meeting of Negro voters as to why they should support Nixon. He said he would point to Nixon's record as a member of the House of Representatives, his two years in the Senate and his eight years as vice president, and "the leadership he demonstrated then in legislative programs — in not only enacting them but in implementing them — that have helped to promote and develop what we term civil rights in this country."

Mr. Morton's explanation of the failure of Rockefeller to get the Republican nomination was that the New York governor was "too late." The Kentucky senator declared that if he could have gotten Rockefeller "out of the gate" in mid-March and into the primaries, the New York governor would have had a better chance to win.

A FINAL QUESTION was this:

"Senator, do you find perhaps the ultimate irony that Gov. Agnew, now the vice-presidential candidate, stood ready at that point to be the director of the Rockefeller campaign and now has ended up with the vice-presidential nomination?

Sen. Morton: "Well, the governor was one among several of us — Gov. Agnew — who did urge and want Gov. Rockefeller to get into it. And Gov. Agnew, as early as February, was urging him to do it."

Sen. Morton has served two terms in the United States Senate and previously was assistant secretary of state in the Eisenhower administration. What he said over television on Sunday represents the attitude of the practical politicians in the Republican party, whether on the "liberal" or the "conservative" side.

While there were expressions of dissent before and during the convention, these are not unatural. It can be said that today the Republican party, so far as the political leaders are concerned, is almost unanimous in support of the national ticket.

Most members of Congress, moreover, as well as other Republican candidates for local and state office, will be anxious to take advantage of Republican straight-ticket voting, especialy in the areas where voting machines are used.

With foreign imports well entrenched, marketing a smaller American car is somewhat risky. But if manufacturers can keep the price under $2,000 and make the design appealing, chances for starting another "Mustang revolution" are good.

Thwarting A Trade Subsidy

The move by France to get well — economically — at the expense of the United States is about to be thwarted.

After the May and June strikes in France were settled by giving workers a 10-15 per cent wage hike, the French government adopted a policy of granting subsidies to its manufacturers.

THE SUBSIDIES enable French producers to sell their products abroad at a cheaper price and create an unfair competitive edge for French products in other countries, including the United States.

But the United States government is not buying the French subsidy program.

An international trade equalizing device, little-used since the days of Nazi Germany, has been dusted off.

The device is countervailing duties and it permits the United States to raise cut-rate prices of French products and eliminates the subsidy advantage.

The duty, which applies to practically all French goods, will be lifted if the French subsidy ends Jan. 31 as it is scheduled.

The United States would like to see the French economy get back on its feet, but it is rediculous to expect American manufacturers to take the loss brought on by the large wage hikes granted to French workers.

The United States has enough economic problems without taking on the added burden lifting France over its economic hump.

Even if the United States had no economic problems, it would be foolish to permit the French to capitalize on the trade advantage.

BECAUSE as soon as France is economically strong again, President Charles de Gaulle will renew his attack on the dollar in an attempt to force its devaluation and place the world on the gold standard.

Trade is effective only so long as it is mutually beneficial to the two nations involved. An unfair advantage will cool the ardor of a trade affair in a hurry.

The United States wisely has taken steps to keep trade between France and America on an even keel.

RAYMOND MOLEY

The Part He Must Play

In a scene in his play, "Abraham Lincoln," John Drinkwater shows the President resting after a day spent visiting the troops at the front. He is lounging in a chair with his feet in another chair. Over his long legs there is an Army blanket. His young secretary, John Hay, is reading from Shakespeare's "The Tempest" the comments of Prospero about the show of magic which he has just given his guests. At the end of the recital, Lincoln repeats the lines:

"We are of such stuff as dreams are made on,

Lincoln, no doubt, realized what a captive he was in the role of president. But it was the genius of the playwright that associated it with the fantasy produced by Prospero.

SHAKESPEARE more than once referred to life as a stage where each man played a part assigned to him by fate or circumstance. He would have understood the meaning of Drinkwater's use of the quotation.

There is nothing like a national convention which reminds us so much of the flight from reality which characterizes our political life. And of how a candidate or a president is governed by the part he must play.

That was the sum of my reflections after four days at Miami Beach.

The externals were all contrived make-believe. The mass of "literature" and gimcracks worth no more than it was when laborers gathered and burned it after the show was over. The claques of hired hands who know nothing of the matter except the few dollars there efforts earned. The useless freeloaders and camp followers who always infest a convention with nothing on their minds except an appetite to see a show.

The reckless violation of the truth by contenders and their managers. Expressions, in this instance, about the nonelectability of Richard Nixon which they will deny when they campaign for him later on. The speeches, a cascade of cliches and platitudes. The tireless repetition of meaningless polls. The long suspense and the final count of hard votes.

But there are rules and customs which lie beneath all this mad disorder. Rules determined by self-interest mingled with reason and deep concern for the nation as well as the party. The delegates who have seen it all before are not moved by the show. Most had their mind made up long before they came to the cosvention.

Presidents are created in this strange setting, and while, as a forneigner observed long ago, not all have been great men, with rare exceptions all have been honorable and true to the role in which they have been cast.

Nixon emerged from all this as the choice of a great party. For more than a score of years he has traveled the highways of politics. No one knows so well the fleeting moments of glory bought by enduring frustrations and defeats. And he knows that as a candidate in the next three months he must still be playing the part he has so well enacted in the months and years before. And if elected president, there is still a role to play.

NEVER AGAIN, if he is successful in November and-or January, will he be the private person of the past except in the enclave of his family. The Dick Nixon his friends have always known must be "Mr. President" then. They must meet him amid the reticence which will surround the great office he will hold.

His words will be weighed in the scale of the vast influence they will have in the corners of the nation and the world. His decisions will shake nations, including his own. He will be tightly confined for security's sake in all his comings and goings. He will be ruled as much by custom and prudence as are the royal prisoners in Buckingham Palace.

Why should anyone seek such a transformation in one's life? Why should one scorn the delights of freedom in such a role?

There are no sure answers to such wonderings. We can only know that such has been the lot of all the others who have held that great office. If he is elected, it will be decreed by his ordination.

A Stitch In Time?

VICTOR RIESEL

No Black Revolt On Nixon?

NEW YORK — Here, a contment away from Dick Nixon's think tank, I went into the Negro community to dig te black reaction to the Republican nominees, whose power bedrock at the convention was the South.

Victor Riesel

In Washington, Ray Bliss' professionals at the Republican National Committee barely had unpacked their bags when they went into secluded, moody and headachy meditation in their I St. NW think tank.

Their problem: How to get that vital big city vote from the black populace, the labor people, and the ethnic groups, now that the impression is rampant that South Carolina's Strom Thurmond had been the power broker during the closed-door in-fighting.

Strangely, the message from tough militants was calmer. The militant black leader, Roy Innis, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), which can tie up a city quicker than you can say Jackie Robinson, laid it on the line:

"I'm not as horrified over the Agnew nomination as some people seem to be," Innis said in that terse, staccato manner of his. "But I don't see that he's going to add anything.

¼

"AS FOR DICK NIXON, I hope he understands that by black capitalism — which he has been discussing — we mean the acquisition of the instruments of black capitalism, the community-owned means of operating shops, factories, stores and industry. We're not just interested in creating 10 or 15 black capitalists. There's a big difference. But we'll see.

"CORE has proposed legislation which you and I have discussed before, and we'll see which candidate backs our version of black capitalism and industrial community ownership.

"We will encompass all types — some individuals, some small partnerships, some cooperatives. What we want is a broad black industrialism, based on community action, ownership and management, in the hands of the blacks, all the blacks in the community."

Nor were there any sharper reactions from such men as the NAACP's Roy Wilkins. Wilkins criticized the Republican unemployment plank, saying it fails to recognize that the federal government will have to create the jobs that private industry so far has not been able to provide.

He, too, will wait and see, and analyze and call a conference, and then let his followers in the big cities campaign as they see it.

From the labor people the reaction to the GOP ticket sprang from a conditioned reflex of two decades. It was not so much points South which disturbed the national labor leaders. It was the simple nomination of Dick Nixon and the points in the platform.

Gov. Agnew doesn't bother them. They're cynics. If Mr. Agnew, as a Republican, was a hero in labor circles when he was proselytizing for Nelson Rockefeller until last March, he's not automatically a bum because he's now with Dick Nixon.

NO, WHAT DOES bother the labor leaders is the toughness of the GOP's labor platform.

As one high labor spokesman said of the plank:

"It hands us praise in the first paragraph and gives us the business in the rest of the statement."

It is tough. The labor plank demands tougher enforcement of the Taft-Hartley Law and the Landrum-Griffin Act. It urges strong legislation to handle national emergency strikes. It slaps at the White House for alleged "back-door" pressure against employers during vital labor stoppages. In a few sentences it hits all of labor's sensitive nerve centers.

For example, it says that the GOP would "bar government-coerced strike settlements that cynically disregard the public interest and accelerate inflation."

This is not how the labor leaders see it. And when AFL-CIO President George Meany testifies in Chicago at about 10 a.m. next Thursday before the Democratic party platform committee, he'll sledgehammer the Republicans as only he can do it.

The public doesn't pay much attention to such nuances these circus days. But the labor movement's own press will.

WEEK AFTER WEEK it will hammer ath-Messrs. Nixon and Agnew. These labor papers, with circulations in the millions, concentrated in the big cities and now middle-class suburbs, may have their effect.

The labor press, no doubt, will call it a "Southern conservative conspiracy" against working people.

Labor will be aiming at the "big city" vote, which these days is cast on both sides of the city line.

If the assault succeeds, and costs the Nixon-Agnew ticket a share of the megalopolises' ballots among blacks and whites, the Republicans will be hurt badly.

If not, the Nixon-Agnew ticket gets it share of the black votes, the labor ballots, the ethnic outpouring, the Republicans will win.

DAVID LAWRENCE

GOP Ticket

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, Republican of Kentucky, former chairman of the Republican National Committee and recently preconvention manager of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's campaign, was on the CBS television network Sunday from 12:30 to 1 p.m. in the East, which was the luncheon hour for many people or church time for millions of others in the West. So a large number of persons probably did not have a chance to get what might be called a professional analysis of the nomination of the Nixon-Agnew ticket.

Examining the verbatim transcript afterwards, this correspondent found several things of interest. First of all, Mr. Morton pointed out that the country shouldn't have been surprised at the selection of Gov. Agnew, since in 1952 Adlai Stevenson, an outstanding "liberal," picked Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama as his running mate.

THE KENTUCKY SENATOR declared that the presidential nominee has the right to select the vice-presidential candidate and that in this instance the Maryland governor "has a lot of experience in the same problems that face us as a nation, with the exception of foreign policy." The vice president, of course, now sits in at cabinet meetings and other important conferences.

In answer to a question as to what part the Southern bloc played in picking the vice-presidential nominee, Mr. Morton said that he thought the two persons who really held the South together for Nixon were Sen. John Tower of Texas and Sen. Howard Baker, Jr., of Tennessee.

Nixon's idea, Mr. Morton said, was to pick a man who was not objectionable anywhere in the United States, and that was why he selected Agnew. He described the Republican presidential nominee as follows:

"Dick Nixon is a moderate, he's a middle-of-the-roader. His record, for example, on civil rights — and we served together in the Congress — is just as liberal, if not more so, than mine, and I've never gotten less than 45 per cent of the Negro vote of Jefferson County, Ky. And his record is better than mine. So he does represent what I think is the mainstream of thinking."

Mr. Morton was asked what reasons he would give to any meeting of Negro voters as to why they should support Nixon. He said he would point to Nixon's record as a member of the House of Representatives, his two years in the Senate and his eight years as vice president, and "the leadership he demonstrated then in legislative programs — in not only enacting them but in implementing them — that have helped to promote and develop what we term civil rights in this country."

Mr. Morton's explanation of the failure of Rockefeller to get the Republican nomination was that the New York governor was "too late." The Kentucky senator declared that if he could have gotten Rockefeller "out of the gate" in mid-March and into the primaries, the New York governor would have had a better chance to win.

A FINAL QUESTION was this:

"Senator, do you find perhaps the ultimate irony that Gov. Agnew, now the vice-presidential candidate, stood ready at that point to be the director of the Rockefeller campaign and now has ended up with the vice-presidential nomination?

Sen. Morton: "Well, the governor was one among several of us — Gov. Agnew — who did urge and want Gov. Rockefeller to get into it. And Gov. Agnew, as early as February, was urging him to do it."

Sen. Morton has served two terms in the United States Senate and previously was assistant secretary of state in the Eisenhower administration. What he said over television on Sunday represents the attitude of the practical politicians in the Republican party, whether on the "liberal" or the "conservative" side.

While there were expressions of dissent before and during the convention, these are not unatural. It can be said that today the Republican party, so far as the political leaders are concerned, is almost unanimous in support of the national ticket.

Most members of Congress, moreover, as well as other Republican candidates for local and state office, will be anxious to take advantage of Republican straight-ticket voting, especialy in the areas where voting machines are used.

phrey," "Citizens for Humphrey" and "Economists for Humphrey."

The Humphrey forces lately have taken the line that the vice president's nomination is a virtual cinch and that the delegates should stick with a winner—a man able to defeat the Republican nominee, Richard Nixon. Many of the envelopes contain figures on nationwide public opinion polls, showing the candidate's standing in relation to his fellow Democratic hopefuls and the Republican aspirants.

The McCarthy backers urge the delegate to "keep an open mind" and "listen to the candidates and study the issues" rather than plunking for Humphrey on the first ballot. They picture McCarthy as a liberal or a moderate who can provide the answers to Vietnam, racial troubles and street crime.

THE MCCARTHY strategy obviously is aimed at denying Humphrey a victory on an early ballot, hoping to start a heavier swing toward the Minnesota senator.

And there are telegrams inviting the delegate to personal meetings with the candidate or his prominent supporters, as well as invitations to cocktail parties and dinners — all in the hope of swinging convention votes.

Rapport has received mail from virtually every state in the union. Some letters are handwritten, others obviously were turned out on a duplicating machine. One Ohio group even included a huge petition signed by several hundred persons all urging him to support Sen. McCarthy's candidacy.

There has been mail from all parts of Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and other nearby states. But the volume of letters also has been heavy from states such as California, Wisconsin, Illinois, New York, Missouri, Oregon, Kansas and Massachusetts.

For example, a man wrote from Oberlin, Ohio: "Sen. McCarthy is by far the best qualified of all candidates for the presidency of either party. Moreover, he is the only Democrat who can win. To entrust the future of the Democratic party to a schmoe like Hubert Humphrey would be criminal."

AND ON THE other hand the "Economists for Humphrey" sent the delegate a long letter asserting that the vice president "is by far the best qualified candidate for president to lead the country in the constant struggle to meet its problems."

There are letters from housewives, teachers, steelworkers, doctors of philosophy, medical doctors, attorneys, psychiatrists and many others — all urging their particular point of view.

The most touching items in Rapport's correspondence file are the letters and wires he received from Sen. Robert Kennedy before he was struck down by a bullet in Los Angeles. For instance, there is a wire inviting him to meet the senator at Columbus in May "to discuss my plans and aspirations for the nation as well as for the Democratic party." His acquaintanceship with the senator dated back to 1960, when Robert Kennedy and his brother, Ted, helped secure the Democratic nomination for their brother at the convention in Los Angeles.

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota got into the presidential race a few days ago, but so far his backers have not started to flood Rapport's mailbox. He believes the senator entered so late that he expects to do most of his delegate-seeking in Chicago.

"IT'S A THRILL to be part of a national convention, with all the crowds and color and oratory," Rapport said. "You get a sense of being part of history in the making. It's intriguing and exciting, a real education in the processes of democracy.

"The noise on the floor is deafening when partisans are putting on a demonstration for their candidate. It's impossible to hear in a normal conversation — it's like standing alongside crashing ocean surf."

The delegate's day is a long one, from early morning until late at night, but he pays all the expenses out of his own pocket. The cost of the stay of less than a week in Chicago may run $400 to $600, including hotel room, meals, transportation and incidental expenses.

The days usually begin with breakfast meetings, followed by caucuses of state delegations, meetings with candidates and their supporters and dinners and other social affairs. Convention business begins in the early evening and may run until midnight or later, followed by more meetings and conferences.

THE DISTRICT delegation will be staying at the Sherman Hotel. It is part of the Ohio delegation of 128 which has a total of 115 convention votes.

The area delegates, participating in the Ohio delegate caucus Monday night at Columbus, decided to support Humphrey for the nomination. Humphrey received support from 60 Ohio delegates. The rest are scattered or uncommitted.

The other 18th Congressional delegate is Howard Mercer of New Philadelphia. The district alternates are Robert Price of Wintersville and James Inzetta of Barnesville.

Columbiana Countians who will go to Chicago as delegates at large from Ohio include Don Gosney of Columbiana, Guy Mauro, Salem attorney, Ronald Beight of Leetonia RD and Roy Allen of Columbiana, a printer at The Review and his party's nominee for state representative.

bank, destroying three boats and killing 65 men. But the Nigerian command said that it held Akwete.

In Addis Ababa, peace talks continued in a stalemate, and the Nigerian negotiators rejected new proposals for relief flights of food and medicine to the millions of starving Biafrans. The Lagos government turned down a plan for flights to an air strip on Biafran soil that would be controlled by the International Red Cross.

Commenting on the proposal, which was endorsed by Red Cross Commissioner August Lindt, the Nigerian delegation said: "The federal government, as already indicated, will only permit flights of supplies to Enugu, from where they will be carried southward by road."

Enugu, the former Biafran capital, has been in Nigerian hands since October. But the Biafrans refuse to receive food passing through Nigerian territory because they fear the Nigerians will poison it. Nigeria opposes an airlift because the Biafrans have been getting arms as well as food by planes running the Nigerian blockade.

The Swedish air charter company Transair announced it would continue flights of relief supplies using a secret new route opened last weekend by one of its pilots. The pilot said the route avoided Nigerian antiaircraft sites.

Henry Labouisse, American executive director of the U.N. children's fund—UNICEF—told a news conference in Geneva after visiting areas in southeast Nigeria: "Many are dying from starvation, particularly children, on both sides of the fighting. A great many others are on the verge of starvation."

week. They now average about 181 a week.

Clifford acknowledged the North Vietnamese have been withdrawing troops to border areas of their own territory as well as to Laos and Cambodia but he did not interpret this as de-escalation.

"This is a pattern that he has followed in the past," he said. "He moves the troops out of the battle areas so that he can start the regrouping and the refitting, and institute other preparations for attack."

"We have no alternative, obviously, but to proceed on the assumption that there will be a third enemy offensive," Clifford said.

that the command's figures come into question.

There has been great confusion about the rate of infiltration, with some military estimates differing from civilian figures.

The present Viet Cong and North Vietnamese strength in South Vietnam is carried in weekly communiques as 222,000 soldiers and 85,000 political cadre, at most. Of these, some 95,000 are reported to be North Vietnamese regulars.

This figure, released weekly to the press, has remained constant for months. It is an "evaluated" figure, incorporating information over many months. It is also smoothed out to avoid fluctuations which might, or might not, be inaccurate over a long period. It was not designed for day to day accuracy, officers explain, but to give an over-all picture.

Thus, like American political polls, the weekly statistics have to be assessed and open to different interpretations. The U.S. headquarters insists that the figures are accurate.

3-Hour Meeting Held

Increased Costs Of Labor To Hike Airport Figures

LISBON — A three - hour discussion relative to the proposed Columbiana County airport north of Glenmoor produced one certainty:

Increased labor costs Nov. 1 and again May 1 will raise the bid price of $355,018 by perhaps $15,000.

Roland A. Getz, Mansfield contractor, said this is too much of a difference for him to absorb.

He said he studied the offered contract and finds it contains no escalation clause.

THE CONTRACT between Getz and the county commissioners has not been signed. "I would like a day or two to think about it," Getz said.

"Would you go along with the idea — if you could legally make a change order — to give me an increase in the contract to cover me for these wage increases?" he asked.

"Yes, if it can be legally cleared," was the answer of the three commissioners — Chairman Charles J. Gause, R. Max Gard and James W. Boyd, a member of the County Airport Authority.

However, Gause told Getz he had asked Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis if this could be done and the prosecutor told him he would have to obtain an opinion.

Getz has been waiting to begin work since submitting the low bid exactly four months ago. He contemplated having the field ready for operation this fall.

IT WAS not until the end of July that the commissioners and the Airport Authority received and signed the Federal Aviation Administration's grant offer of $216,876 for construction. By signing, the co - sponsors agreed to use the $100,000 allocated by the Ohio Department of Aviation for construction and the commissioners are to issue bonds for $95,742 to cover the balance of the cost.

The FAA condition for release of federal funds is that the four parcels making up the airport site be free of encumbrances. Bettis signed a clear title certificate Aug. 1 and forwarded it to the FAA office in Cleveland for review.

The status of the review was reported yesterday by James Opatrny of the FAA, who will be project engineer for the county job. He said FAA attorneys want a release of an easement which the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. has on a part of the old Swaney Airport donated by Mike Turk of East Liverpool.

Bettis had sent the FAA a letter from Manufacturers stating it would give a release, but FAA counsel said it must have the actual release. Bettis called the firm's Pittsburgh office yesterday and was told he could pick up the release today.

OPATRNY said FAA's regional counsel in New York is reviewing title papers on the other three parcels. Gause talked by phone to the Cleveland office yesterday and was told an answer on all the properties should be ready in another week.

The commissioners have not signed the contract because they cannot collect any federal money for the contractor's work until the FAA is satisfied about the title to the land.

Getz questioned three labor representatives at the meeting to determine the amount of raises to expect.

John Schwellinger and Calvin J. Malone, both of the Youngstown office of Operating Engineers Local 66 of Pittsburgh, said machine operators will get a 30-cents-an-hour boost Nov. 1 and another 60 cents an hour beginning May 1. Teamsters Union men will receive a raise averaging 45 cents per hour next May 1, according to Russ Albright of Teamsters Local 92 at Canton.

Getz said this would amount to about 15 per cent on his labor costs, which run approximately 30 per cent of the bid price. The addition, he said, will be roughly $15,000.

Gard said Getz could get much of the excavation done this fall before the first raise becomes effective. Getz said most of the work would have to be done next spring after all the raises apply.

SHOULD the commissioners and Getz be unable to resolve the question of his increased costs, and should he decide not to sign the contract, the project would have to be readvertised for bids.

Gause asked Opatrny if the grant offer could be increased to cover increased labor costs. Opatrny said it is his understanding the federal participation was based on the best eligible bid and will not be changed.

He emphasized the money has been allocated and satisfaction of title requirements is all that is needed for the FAA to authorize the commissioners to give the contractor the order to proceed.

The prosecutor said he could not advise the commissioners to sign the contract since he does not know whether FAA counsel will raise questions about the other properties or how long it will take to settle the questions if they do.

After the long discussion, Opatrny held a pre - construction conference with Getz, Richard Scheetz of Mosure & Fok, Youngstown consulting engineer retained to supervise airport construction, and Samuel J. Sowards of Lisbon, an employe of Mosure & Fok.

Others attending part or all of the meeting in the commissioners' office were R. Vaughn McMarrow of Wellsville vice president of the Airport Authority; E. S. Ward of Lisbon, CAA secretary; Robert Veness and P. J. Todd, both of the Ohio Power Co., East Liverpool, and Jack Alpern of East Liverpool, law student assistant this summer in the prosecutor's office. Alpern went to Pittsburgh for the release letter today.

Hearing Is Adjourned In Rape-Murder Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Criminal Court Judge Jack Rosenberg Thursday adjourned until Sept. 4 a hearing for two men charged in the rape-murder of Debbie Neill, 13, of Vickery, Ohio.

The men, Dave Thomas, 30, and Ronald Alfo, both of Manhattan, are being held without bail. Rosenberg granted the adjournment because the case has not yet been presented to a grand jury.

It was up to the spectators to decide whether the life of a defeated Roman gladiator should be spared. By pointing their thumbs down, they could instruct the victor to kill him. If the crowd waved and applauded, the defeated gladiator lived to fight another day.

2 Ohio Republicans Will Talk With Nixon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two top Ohio Republicans were off for San Diego, Calif., today for campaign talks with GOP presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon.

John S. Andrews, Republican state chairman, and Francis L. Dale of Cincinnati, chairman of Nixon's Ohio campaign, plan to return to Ohio Saturday night.

Lucas County Sheriff Pulls Out Of Race

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Lucas County Sheriff William Hirsch, 75, withdrew Thursday as a candidate to succeed himself in the Nov. 5 general election. Sheriff since 1953, Hirsch cited health as the reason.

The county Republican organization has one week to appoint a successor in the race. The Democratic candidate is John McHugh.

New Principal Named For Jefferson Union

IRONDALE — William Kulstad has been employed as principal of Jefferson Union High School by the Edison Local board of education.

Kulstad for the last 10 years has been a high school principal in southwestern Ohio and previously served for eight years as an administrator in South Dakota.

He received his bachelor's degree from Wisconsin State University and his master's from the University of Minnesota. He has taken post-graduate work at the University of California.

Kulstad is the father of two children — a son who will be a junior at Northwestern University this fall and a daughter who will enter Ohio University as a freshman. Mrs. Kulstad is a teacher and has been employed in the Edison district. The Kulstads will move to this area in the near fuutre.

The following resignations were accepted: Jack Everett, Richard Meredith, Martha Baker, Daniel Hall, Mary Irwin and Daniel Stone.

In other business, all non-certified personnel not already under contract were employed.

Salary schedules for non-certified employes were adopted.

Thelma Menough was employed as manager for all cafeterias in the district.

School pupil accident insurance was awarded to the Pioneer Mutual Insurance Co. through the McGowan Agency in Steubenville for the school year 1968-69.

The board adopted a resolution complying with recent legislation enacted by the last legislature concerning the control of all activity funds of the various schools within the district. Treasurers will be appointed in the near future.

The board also approved a general meeting of all teachers in the district at Stanton High School on Friday Aug. 30, at 10:30 a. m. Sen. Oliver Ocasek will address the group. All teachers will meet with their principals in the afternoon at 1:30 in their respective buildings.

The Gribben Construction Co. of Steubenville was awarded a contract to place concrete pads under the foundation of the west wall of the Richmond Elementary School.

Four More Ohioans Victims In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four soldiers from Ohio are on the Defense Department's latest Vietnam death list.

They are Spec. 4 William L. Debo of Portsmouth, Pfc. Zachary P. New of Cincinnati, Pfc. Dennis A. Price of Minerva and Sgt. Eugene M. Woodson of Toledo.

At the beginning of this 20th century, it was an accepted fact that 20 per cent of all newborn babies would die before they were more than one year old. Today the mortality rate of infants under one year old has dropped to about 3 per cent.

Pike Appraises Administration

LISBON — Mayor Clyde B. Pike, who took office Jan. 1, reviewed accomplishments of his administration during the Kiwanis Club luncheon Thursday in the VFW McKinley Room..

He said he was confronted immediately with several problems; a new council, residgnation of the street commissioner, a new fire chief, street surfaces bad and inclement weather prevented repair, and friction within the government.

Among accomplishments, he listed purchase of a street sweeper, beautification of the village Square, curbing and resurfacing Pritchard Ave. and Exchange St., creation of a Shade Tree Commission, saved approximately $15,000 by having village workmen repair the swimming pool, completed redecorating Village Hall, set up an inventory of village equipment, acquired the old Lincoln School from the board of education, and reduced friction within the government.

The mayor was introduced by John P. Wargo, program chairman for August.

month's paid vacation, the local is demanding two weeks paid vacation for up to eight years service, three weeks for eight to 15 years service, and four weeks for more than 15 years.

The board of education has emphasized no funds are available for any salary boosts or other programs within the present budget.

Continued picketing of the school sites and refusal of other union workers to cross the picket lines pose a threat of delay in the start of classes.

OTHER REQUESTS of the union are time and a half pay for work past the regular eight-hour day and 40 hour week, rather than compensatory time off.

The union also wants all insurance to be paid by the board, and overtime pay for all activities including school activities.

In the event of extra rental activity in any school, the union wants an extra employee on duty to provide whatever services are needed.

Also requested is a policy that overtime work required because of school or outside activities shall be given first to a custodian from that building in which the activity is taking place in the following order: Another fulltime custodian regularly assigned to that building who is not on regular duty while extra services are needed; other available full time custodians from within the school system; and extra or part - time custodians in the event no full-time custodian is available.

THE UNION is aking that there be no penalty for strikers.

Assistant Supt. Carl Pelini said this morning he met with Lou Campbell, a union representative from Council 18 of the AFL-CIO at Youngstown, Thursday to discuss several areas and technicalities regarding the original demand. Pelini said he thought a meeting was to be held this afternoon at 1 p.m. for the formal proposal to be presented. He learned this morning that a proposal had been presented. He then was presented the proposal by McKinnon.

In a meeting this morning with the board of education, the proposal was again rejected. The board felt it was almost the same as the original proposal and reiterated it cannot do anything that is not contingent on the passage of the operating levy on Sept. 17. "We do not have the money in the operating budget," members said.

PELINI ADDED that every day the strike is not settled the probability increases that school will not opepn as scheduled.

McKinnon said this morning that if the offer was rejected by the board members, the union will not call the men off the picket line for a meeting. They will meet Saturday morning.

He pointed out that a man with four children making $4,100, the starting salary, is eligible for food stamps. Also, McKinnon said, four men who were making $4,700 retired, and the new men were hired at $4,100. "we feel this makes some money available for the board to use."

McKinnon also stated that the members of the union voted unanimously to allow the people to enter East Junior High Sunday for the concert sponsored to raise funds for scholarships. They also voted to allow the buses to transport the band to Kennywood Park for their performance today.

Asked why the custodians refuse to accept an offer contingent on the levy, McKinnon said he felt the people of East Liverpool were not in favor of the levy and this would be a promise that could not be fulfilled. filled.

Camp Carroll and the other two southeast of the Con Thien outpost, which is two miles below the DMZ.

In the fight near Camp Carroll, enemy troops dug in on high ground north of the Cam Lo River fired mortar shells on approaching Marines. The Leathernecks called in tanks, artillery and air strikes that drove the North Vietnamese from their positions. Then they pusued the enemy down the back side of the ridge.

The Marines reported 41 enemy soldiers killed and 13 Marines wounded in that battle.

Another unit of Marines near Con Thien spotted enemy troops setting up an ambush and called in air strikes to drive the enemy into a trap the Leathernecks set up. They reported killing 11 North Vietnamese and said there were no Marine casualties.

Several hours later in the same area, a Marine patrol spotted an enemy unit and called in reinforcements, tanks and helicopter gunships. The Leathernecks said that time 17 North Vietnamese were killed and two Marines were wounded.

Eight-engine U.S. B52 bombers returned to the northern campaign Thursday with five missions along the southernmost edge of North Vietam. They dropped up to 450 tons of bombs on enemy troop concentrations and artillery positions.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command issued a revised report on South Vietnamese accidentally killed Aug. 8 when an American river force retaliated to a series of ambushes in the Mekong Delta and some of the fire struck a village. The command said 71 civilians and one soldier were killed—nearly five times the 16 dead previously reported. The revision made the toll the Vietnam war's second highest in such an incident.

Local Resident Faces Charges

A 27-year-old East Liverpool man faces a number of charges following a fight and a chase in Chester Thursday at 3:30 p. m.

Willard Payne of 8 Thompson Pl. was charged with carrying a .22 automatic without a state license, assault by pointing a loaded gun and reckless operation of a vehicle.

According to Chester police, Payne and Daner Adkins of Crawford Ave., East Liverpool fought in front of Pat's Tavern on Carolina Ave., after Adkins found Payne in the tavern with his wife Carol Adkins.

During the fracas which followed outside the tavern, Payne pulled a gun on Adkins, then ran to his car. Payne's auto went over the curb and into the yard of Ralph B. Sims Sr. of 515 Carolina Ave. Returning to the street, Payne's car then struck three parked automobiles, causing extensive damage.

The parked cars were owned by Hope Temple of Laurel Heights, Chester, Robert Ryan of Chester RD 1 and Vernon McGregor of Steubenville.

As Payne's car came to a stop, he fled on foot, but was apprehended a short distance away by Patrolman Rex Cowey and his brother Dave Cowey.

Payne was turned over to state police after Squire Eugene Allison placed him under $2,000 bond. Payne was then taken to Brooke County jail and will be given a hearing Aug. 26.

the board by the directors of the Minneapolis Federal Reserve Bank and takes effect in Minneapolis today. The change will occur at the other 11 Federal Reserve banks around the nation only as their directors meet and vote to follow suit—a process that can take days or even weeks.

The last downturn in the discount rate, from 4½ per cent to 4 per cent, occurred April 14, 1967. It climbed back up to 4½ per cent on Nov. 20 and rose to 5 per cent March 15.

Tinkering with the rate is one means the government has of making sure that the intentional cooling off of the economy that is expected to occur in the second half of 1968 will not be too severe.

Economic indicators for July show, so far at least, no signs of a recession-inducing nosedive. Industrial production figures were once again on the upside, despite the beginning of the tax surcharge during the month.

The world's tallest building is New York City's Empire State Building, which rises 1,250 feet high (without its TV tower), and comprises 102 stories.

Club To Auction Steers Thursday At County's Fair

LISBON — Boys and girls in the Columbiana County Steer Club have a "beefstake" they hope will pay off handsomely during the annual auction next Thursday at the County Fair.

Gordon L. McDonald, county 4-H extension agent, said club members will lead 95 head of prime and choice steers into the coliseum auction ring at 8 p.m.

The grand and reserve champions will lead the parade. Last year the two best brought 68 and 38 cents per pound, respectively. The sale average for 88 head was 29.8 cents.

For families interested in buying beef on the hoof, McDonald said several area packers are willing to process the steers and some will provide trucking to their plant as an added convenience.

More information on this feature is available at the Cooperative Extension Office in Lisbon or from any of the following packers: Faulk's and Knox, both of Lisbon; Carter's, Rogers; Horst's, Columbiana; Sidwell's, Winona; Brogan's and Zeigler's, both of Salem, and Lloyd's, Youngstown.

The bridegroom attended Kent State University for one year and has been in the Navy for two years, including five months in Vietnam, where he received wounds while serving with the Marines. He reported Sunday to the Philadelphia Naval Hospital for further treatment.

Mrs. Charles Blair of Midland, aunt of the bride, was hostess for a pre-nuptial shower.

Sandra Golden, Clarence Stefl Wed At Irondale

Miss Sandra M. Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Golden of Irondale, became the bride of Clarence E. Stefl, son of Mrs. Alice Barnes of East Liverpool, last Sunday afternoon at 4:30 in the Irondale Methodist Church. The Rev. David Atkinson officiated for the single - ring ceremony.

Mrs. William Hoobler presented a half - hour recital of organ music.

Miss Lois Wendling of Canton was maid of honor and Frank Merriman of East Liverpool was best man.

Alaskan Senator May Be Released By City Hospital

Sen. E. L. Bartlett, Alaskan Democrat, may be released from City Hospital today, according to the attending physician.

The senator was reported in good condition after being admitted Wednesday night after becoming ill aboard the Delta Queen during an Ohio River cruise.

A physician aboard the boat diagnosed the illness as a possible heart attack, but an aide to the senator said Thursday that tests had established that Bartlett did not suffer such an attack.

Head Start Here Winds Up Work

The summer "Head Start" program was concluded here today following eight weeks of classes.

Field trips included visits to the Central Fire Station, Carnegie Library and Golden Star Dairy.

Terming the program a success, Miss Johnston expressed appreciation for the cooperation of "interested area residents."

One great difference between plants and animals is the way they get their food. Animals eat plants or other animals. Most plants are able to make their own food out of substances they find in the air and soil.

Beaver Sets New Lights At Airport

BEAVER — County commissioners Thursday approved a contract with the Prothero Electric Co. for installation of lighting at two hangers at the Beaver County Airport.

In other action, the commissioner authorized advertising for bids for 28,000 property tax forms, granted $50 toward payment for a band concert at the San Rocco Festival at Aliquippa Sunday and made a $10,536 partial payment to the Stewart Painting Co. for painting on the East Rochester - Monaca toll bridge, a project which is 20 per cent finished.

The final assessment of $3,257 for the Southwest Regional Planning Commission and purchase of a $300 cement mixing machine for the public works department were approved.

Club To Auction Steers Thursday At County's Fair

LISBON — Boys and girls in the Columbiana County Steer Club have a "beefstake" they hope will pay off handsomely during the annual auction next Thursday at the County Fair.

Gordon L. McDonald, county 4-H extension agent, said club members will lead 95 head of prime and choice steers into the coliseum auction ring at 8 p.m.

The grand and reserve champions will lead the parade. Last year the two best brought 68 and 38 cents per pound, respectively. The sale average for 88 head was 29.8 cents.

For families interested in buying beef on the hoof, McDonald said several area packers are willing to process the steers and some will provide trucking to their plant as an added convenience.

More information on this feature is available at the Cooperative Extension Office in Lisbon or from any of the following packers: Faulk's and Knox, both of Lisbon; Carter's, Rogers; Horst's, Columbiana; Sidwell's, Winona; Brogan's and Zeigler's, both of Salem, and Lloyd's, Youngstown.

Democrats Plan Picnic In Beaver

BEAVER — More than 1,000 are expected to attend the annual Beaver County Democratic picnic Sunday afternoon at the Ambridge Borough Park.

The event, which will begin at 1, will include games, roast pig, roast lamb, and refreshments. Dan Donatella is president of the Young Democrats Club which is sponsoring the fete in conjunction with the county Democrat committee and the Women's Federation of Democrat Clubs.

Tickets are now available for the party's presidential dinner-dance Sept. 28.

Crothers Will Greet Stone House Visitors

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. Alton Crothers will greet visitors from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday at the Old Stone House — the Lisbon Historical Society's Museum.

The restored inn on E. Washington St., one block south of the Square, is also open from 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday during the summer, with Mrs. Leland Biggins hostess.

Car, Plane Accidents Investigated By Patrol

Two two-car accidents and a plane accident, all minor, were investigated by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon Thursday.

At 11:45 a.m. on Route 7, a mile and a half north of Route 30, Francis J. Bentz, 38, of 729 Cartwright St., East Liverpool was driving his 1966 coach north when he stopped to await oncoming traffic before turning into a private drive, when Wayne E. Zwald of Hudson, operating a 1968 sedan, failed to stop and struck Bentz' auto in the rear.

Zwald was cited for failing to stop in an assured clear distance.

At 7:55 p.m., Bentz was X-rayed at City Hospital for possible back injuries and released. Two sons, Robert and David, also were X-rayed. Another son, Michael, was examined for muscle strain. All were released.

Charles H. Hall, 52, of Youngstown was driving north on Roller Coaster Rd., 2.3 miles south of Route 30. The Ohio Highway Patrol said he went left of center as he crested a hill. Terry J. Zaplata, 21, of Lisbon RD 3, driving a 1967 coach south, swerved to miss Hall's auto, but was struck. He then hit concrete strips. There were no injuries.

Donald E. Williams, an attorney from New Castle, was traveling enroute from the New Castle Airport to the Alliance airfield yesterday when he experienced a slight mishap.

Williams, making his approach with a slight west crosswind, struck a wire. He was not injured and landed at Alliance. There was minor damage to the props of the plane.

Pilot Killed, 5 Sport Chutists Hurt In Crash

MEDINA, Ohio (AP) — The pilot was killed and five sport parachutists were injured Thursday night when a single-engine plane hit a grove of trees and crashed near Brunswick Airport in Medina County.

Trapped in the burning wreckage and killed was Walter Dodge, 50, of Strongsville.

Dodge was owner of the airport and the plane, a Piper Cherokee.

Edward Mullen, 20, of North Royalton, one of the injured sky divers, said the plane hit the trees at the end of the runway after taking off. He said the plane burst into flames after crashing in a field about one half mile south of the airport.

Most seriously injured was Michael Robinson, 19, of Parma Heights, who was reported in critical condition at Southwest General Hospital, Berea with burns.

New Storm-Spotting Spacecraft Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — ESSA 7, a new storm-spotting spacecraft, was launched into orbit today to take cloud pictures around the world as the peak of the hurricane season nears.

The 22-by-42 inch, 320-pound vehicle, the seventh environmental survey satellite, will operate from a polar orbit 887 miles high.

U.S. Space Agency officials said pictures from the craft's two cameras would be transmitted to the National Environmental Satellite Center at Suitland, Md., which has sent more than 3,000 warnings to nations threatened by dangerous storms.

Arson Suspected In Beaver Blaze

BEAVER — Police and fire officials today continued investigation of possible arson in a blaze which caused more than $100,000 damage to an almost completed new apartment structure on 3rd St. and Wilson St. Thursday.

The two - story brick and frame building was scheduled for occupancy next month. Assistant Fire Chief Harry Watterson said the blaze was the latest in a similar fires in recent months and the state police fire marshal's office has been asked to assist in the probe.

Local officials said workmen have been picketing the construction project because the contractor, Saul Joseph of Youngstown, is not employing local help.

Assault Case Dropped Following Long Trial

After a lengthy hearing, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed an assault and battery charge stemming from an argument between two women employes of the New York Restaurant.

Mrs. Vicky McWhorter was accused of striking Mrs. Frances Criswell on Aug. 6. Mrs. Criswell testified her fellow employe "slapped me and broke my glasses."

Testimony disclosed that the argument between the two led to an exchange in which Mrs. Criswell allegedly made a slighting remark about Mrs. McWhorter's pregnancy. In dismissing the case, the judge commented that "pregnant women are known to be high-strung and if they want ice cream at 4 in the morning, you go and get it for them. . . . ."

'Parental Failure' Seen Behind Key Problems

Failure of parents to fill their responsibilities was seen as an underlying cause of many of today's problems by Dr. Alexander Fisher, pediatrician, who spoke to members of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

"Why do we have 'hippies,' why do we have draft - card burners, more school dropouts, more pregnant high school girls, increasing crime and delinquency?"

"These are the things which bother me, and the fact is that these trends, started years ago, are going to become worse as the undisciplined generation becomes older," the physician declared.

HE SPOKE of the children and the parents with whom he deals in his practice, and of the effect of home environment upon youngsters. "If we are to be parents, then we must assume the role of parents."

Many of the troubles in the nation today can be attributed to the experiences of the early home, he stated, saying there has been and is in many families a lack of communication and discussion between parents and their children — and between parents.

Mothers and fathers, he said, need to develop more understanding of their children, learn their problems and attitudes by talking with them, not to them or by telling them.

"We are now harvesting the seeds of irresponsibility and discontent which we sowed years ago. I don't mean these young people today are wrong, but that they got started on the wrong foot."

"They can say, and rightfully so, 'Why pick on me now? Why didn't you do something ten or 15 years ago?' "

DR. FISHER also referred to racism, claiming it also stemmed from lack of proper parental influence and lack of education.

By education, he said, he referred to training in school and the knowledge and understanding which are received in church, from friends and companions.

He said that each person concerned about such matters should be carrying the message to fellow workers and friends as a personal responsibility to do something about it.

Dr. Fisher cited statistics which indicated that 94 per cent of firms in major centers throughout Ohio are knowingly violating state and federal laws against job discrimination.

"Why do we even need laws," he asked, "since it is a fundamental need of humanity to secure equality and brotherhood?" He added, "In an emergency room, the color of the blood and subcutaneous tissue is the same as mine."

—:—

"WE NEED less laws and more education," he went on. "We need to develop a little more love for each other. None of us is innocent. we can all think of occasions in our past when we were somehow deficient as a parent."

"It is our duty to keep our homes right, to teach our children why they go to school, why they go to college. It is an all-time job being a parent."

Dr. Fisher concluded, "And it is up to each of us to have the courage of our convictions to stand up to the racists, confront them with the illogic of their claims, so as to curb the uneducated prejudice which threatens to overcome us."

Dr. Fisher was introduced by Les Blumenthal. Ronlad Mason president, was in charge.

2 Youths Placed In State Custody

LISBON — Two Salem boys, ages 16 and 14, were turned over to permanent custody of the Ohio Youth Commission Thursday by Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court.

Court personnel said both have been in trouble repeatedly. The latest offense of the older was a burglary at the Ideal Dairy on N. Ellsworth.

The younger, on probation for a series of thefts including the Sunday collection at the Lisbon United Methodist Church last June, recently stole a car.

Judge Tobin set a hearing Aug. 27 for a 17-year-old Wellsville boy accused of two burglaries — April 11 at the Star Lite Cafe, 1307 Main St., and Aug. 15 at Betty's Market on Wood St. The youth entered a denial yesterday through court - appointed counsel and is being held in detention until the hearing.

2 Drivers Cited After Accident

NEW CUMBERLAND — Both drivers involved in a minor mishap were cited Thursday at 5:10 p. m. when they failed to settle the situation calmly.

Involved were Kenneth Alloway, 43, of 606 Carolina Ave., Chester, and Miss Oplas J. Barr 16, of New Cumberland RD 1.

New Cumberland police said the accident occurred at the curve in the intersection which leads to Route 2 when the tractor - trailer driven by Alloway was struck in the left rear by the car driven by Miss Barr.

Police said they were willing to let both drivers settle the matter privately, but they began arguing they were both arrested.

MODERN HAIR STYLES

Q. Is teasing, ratting or back-combing harmful to the hair?

A. None of these is especially harmful if carried out gently and not too frequently. Care should be taken to avoid roughening the surface of the hair or undue tangling, especially if the hair is dry, or brittle.

DIET BREADS

Q. Does bread made from whole wheat flour have fewer calories than bread made from other types of flour?

A. No. The type of flour alone does not determine the caloric content of bread. If other ingredients such as shortening and milk solids are present in similar amounts, the caloric content of the breads will be similar. One average slice of bread provides about 55 to 60 calories.

Most seriously injured was Michael Robinson, 19, of Parma Heights, who was reported in critical condition at Southwest General Hospital, Berea with burns.

New Storm-Spotting Spacecraft Launched

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — ESSA 7, a new storm-spotting spacecraft, was launched into orbit today to take cloud pictures around the world as the peak of the hurricane season nears.

The 22-by-42 inch, 320-pound vehicle, the seventh environmental survey satellite, will operate from a polar orbit 887 miles high.

U.S. Space Agency officials said pictures from the craft's two cameras would be transmitted to the National Environmental Satellite Center at Suitland, Md., which has sent more than 3,000 warnings to nations threatened by dangerous storms.

Arson Suspected In Beaver Blaze

BEAVER — Police and fire officials today continued investigation of possible arson in a blaze which caused more than $100,000 damage to an almost completed new apartment structure on 3rd St. and Wilson St. Thursday.

The two - story brick and frame building was scheduled for occupancy next month. Assistant Fire Chief Harry Watterson said the blaze was the latest in a similar fires in recent months and the state police fire marshal's office has been asked to assist in the probe.

Local officials said workmen have been picketing the construction project because the contractor, Saul Joseph of Youngstown, is not employing local help.

Fines Are Assessed In Salineville Cases

SALINEVILLE — Dale Kellogg, 18, of Salineville RD 1 was fined $50 and costs by Mayor Dwayne Felton Thursday night on a charge of peeling tires and speeding. He was cited Aug. 3.

John H. Roberts, 18, of Summitville was fined $10 and costs in a stop - sign violation. He pleaded guilty.

Ronald Hines of New Philadelphia, cited on a speeding charge, and Marvin Sondriest of Corona, Calif., cited on a stop sign violation, both forfeited $16 bonds.

Assault Case Dropped Following Long Trial

After a lengthy hearing, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed an assault and battery charge stemming from an argument between two women employes of the New York Restaurant.

Mrs. Vicky McWhorter was accused of striking Mrs. Frances Criswell on Aug. 6. Mrs. Criswell testified her fellow employe "slapped me and broke my glasses."

Testimony disclosed that the argument between the two led to an exchange in which Mrs. Criswell allegedly made a slighting remark about Mrs. McWhorter's pregnancy. In dismissing the case, the judge commented that "pregnant women are known to be high-strung and if they want ice cream at 4 in the morning, you go and get it for them. . . . ."

'Parental Failure' Seen Behind Key Problems

Failure of parents to fill their responsibilities was seen as an underlying cause of many of today's problems by Dr. Alexander Fisher, pediatrician, who spoke to members of the Kiwanis Club Thursday.

"Why do we have 'hippies,' why do we have draft - card burners, more school dropouts, more pregnant high school girls, increasing crime and delinquency?"

"These are the things which bother me, and the fact is that these trends, started years ago, are going to become worse as the undisciplined generation becomes older," the physician declared.

HE SPOKE of the children and the parents with whom he deals in his practice, and of the effect of home environment upon youngsters. "If we are to be parents, then we must assume the role of parents."

Many of the troubles in the nation today can be attributed to the experiences of the early home, he stated, saying there has been and is in many families a lack of communication and discussion between parents and their children — and between parents.

Mothers and fathers, he said, need to develop more understanding of their children, learn their problems and attitudes by talking with them, not to them or by telling them.

"We are now harvesting the seeds of irresponsibility and discontent which we sowed years ago. I don't mean these young people today are wrong, but that they got started on the wrong foot."

"They can say, and rightfully so, 'Why pick on me now? Why didn't you do something ten or 15 years ago?' "

DR. FISHER also referred to racism, claiming it also stemmed from lack of proper parental influence and lack of education.

By education, he said, he referred to training in school and the knowledge and understanding which are received in church, from friends and companions.

He said that each person concerned about such matters should be carrying the message to fellow workers and friends as a personal responsibility to do something about it.

Dr. Fisher cited statistics which indicated that 94 per cent of firms in major centers throughout Ohio are knowingly violating state and federal laws against job discrimination.

"Why do we even need laws," he asked, "since it is a fundamental need of humanity to secure equality and brotherhood?" He added, "In an emergency room, the color of the blood and subcutaneous tissue is the same as mine."

—:—

"WE NEED less laws and more education," he went on. "We need to develop a little more love for each other. None of us is innocent. we can all think of occasions in our past when we were somehow deficient as a parent."

"It is our duty to keep our homes right, to teach our children why they go to school, why they go to college. It is an all-time job being a parent."

Dr. Fisher concluded, "And it is up to each of us to have the courage of our convictions to stand up to the racists, confront them with the illogic of their claims, so as to curb the uneducated prejudice which threatens to overcome us."

Dr. Fisher was introduced by Les Blumenthal. Ronlad Mason president, was in charge.

2 Youths Placed In State Custody

LISBON — Two Salem boys, ages 16 and 14, were turned over to permanent custody of the Ohio Youth Commission Thursday by Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court.

Court personnel said both have been in trouble repeatedly. The latest offense of the older was a burglary at the Ideal Dairy on N. Ellsworth.

The younger, on probation for a series of thefts including the Sunday collection at the Lisbon United Methodist Church last June, recently stole a car.

Judge Tobin set a hearing Aug. 27 for a 17-year-old Wellsville boy accused of two burglaries — April 11 at the Star Lite Cafe, 1307 Main St., and Aug. 15 at Betty's Market on Wood St. The youth entered a denial yesterday through court - appointed counsel and is being held in detention until the hearing.

2 Drivers Cited After Accident

NEW CUMBERLAND — Both drivers involved in a minor mishap were cited Thursday at 5:10 p. m. when they failed to settle the situation calmly.

The accident occurred at the intersections of N. Chestnut and Pearl Sts.

Involved were Kenneth Alloway, 43, of 606 Carolina Ave., Chester, and Miss Oplas J. Barr 16, of New Cumberland RD 1.

New Cumberland police said the accident occurred at the curve in the intersection which leads to Route 2 when the tractor - trailer driven by Alloway was struck in the left rear by the car driven by Miss Barr.

Police said they were willing to let both drivers settle the matter privately, but they began arguing they were both arrested.

MODERN HAIR STYLES

Q. Is teasing, ratting or back-combing harmful to the hair?

A. None of these is especially harmful if carried out gently and not too frequently. Care should be taken to avoid roughening the surface of the hair or undue tangling, especially if the hair is dry, or brittle.

DIET BREADS

Q. Does bread made from whole wheat flour have fewer calories than bread made from other types of flour?

A. No. The type of flour alone does not determine the caloric content of bread. If other ingredients such as shortening and milk solids are present in similar amounts, the caloric content of the breads will be similar. One average slice of bread provides about 55 to 60 calories.

Palmer Victor

The East Liverpool Colt League all - stars stayed alive in the Colt World Series at Riverside, Cal. last night, downing Springfield, Ill. 4-2 and eliminating the losers.

Tonight East Liverpool takes on West Covina, Cal., which is also 1-1 in tourney play. Hawaii and Santa Clara are also 1-1 and Riverside and Ft. Worth, Tex. are 2-0. Ft. Worth whipped Santa Clara 16-0 last night.

Hap Palmer went the distance to win for East Liverpool, yielding five hits. He also walked four, which got him in trouble, and fanned six.

East Liverpool jumped on loser Vandiner for three runs in the first. Scott Dubberly, Randy McVay and Kim Kemple singled for one run, with Kemple taking second on the play at the plate. Cecil Barker grounded to short, and McVay was out in a rundown, but Kemple and Barker moved into scoring position on the play and John Haney singled for two runs.

In the second the locals knocked out Vandiner. Dave Grimm doubled and took third on a single by Palmer. Grimm was out at home when Dubberly grounded to short, but McVay singled to score Palmer.

Springfield had scored in the first when Eisele walked and was forced by Crouch. The aptly - named catcher took third on an error and scored on a hit by Reedis.

In the third Palmer walked Capie and Eisele and the runners advanced on a passed ball. Palmer threw wildly trying to pick Capie off third and both runners apparently scored. But manager Don Smith appealed that Capie missed home plate and the umpires ruled Capie out. There was no further scoring by either team.

Smith says that he will pitch Jim Moore tonight.

Things may get worse before they get better for the Pirates. Some one wrote the other day that the Pirate players themselves can't understand how they keep losing with such talent. But just how good are the players? A look behind the scenes indicates the Pirates have more problems than the Harper Valley PTA. Roberto Clemente says he might retire next season if his injured shoulder doesn't get better. Donn Clendennon says he might retire next season if the fans keep booing him at Forbes Field. Gene Alley's career as a shortstop may be ended by his shoulder injury. Pulled muscles have forced Bill Mazeroski to play at far less than full effectiveness, both in the field and at bat. Maury Wills is getting to the age where he is starting to tire easily. Manny Mota, for some reason, can never hit if kept in the line-up for more than a few days at a time.

The Pirates are looking at the players they have and remembering the years they had in 1966, the year of the pennant near-miss. The players of 1968 are not the players of 1966, in the cases cited above.

IN THE expansion draft next season each club can protect 15 players. The Pirates will protect Willie Stargell, Matty Alou, Jerry May and Freddy Patek. Clemente and Mazeroski, unless they decide to retire, will be on the list. Minor league star thirdbaseman Richie Hebner will be protected, and probably minor league firstbaseman Bob Robertson. But Wills, Clendenon, Mota and Alley may be unprotected, as some pitchers must be on the list of 15. Bob Moose surely, also Bob Veale, Al McBean, Steve Blass and probably Dock Ellis. Dave Roberts of Columbus seems too good to let get away. But what about Tommy Sisk, Luke Walker, Jim Bunning, Elroy Face and Ron Kline? Their status will be up to the Pirate officials, mainly GM Joe Brown. He will have several painful decisions to make, but if certain players with injuries don't recover he may disregard sentiment and rebuild the Bucs with young players.

Blass Blanks Giants, Alou Gains On Rose

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The duel for the batting lead between Matty Alou and Pete Rose seems to be the last remnant of competition for a National League top position now that St. Louis has turned back the late challenge of the Chicago Cubs.

Only three points separate Alou and Rose today while the first-place Cardinals are 14 games in front of the runnerup Cubs.

Alou, 1966 NL batting king, cracked two hits in four tries Thursday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked San Francisco 2-0 behind Steve Blass' four-hitter. The Cards walloped the Cubs 8-0 and Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2 in the only other National League games.

San Francisco's Willie McCovey has a commanding lead in homers and runs batted in with 30 and 77, respectively, while Juan Marichal, another Giant is a solid frontrunner in most pitching victories with 21.

Alou triggered a two-run Pirate first inning that carried Blass to his 10th victory against five defeats. Matty singled and later scored on Donn Clendenon's one-bagger. The second run came home when third baseman Jim Hart erred on Manny Mota's grounder.

Blass was in trouble only in the third inning when Jay Alou, Matty's brother, singled and moved to second on Hal Lanier's single. However, Blass got losing pitcher Bob Bolin, 6-4, on a pop foul and fanned Bobby Bonds and Ron Hunt. The setback ended the Giants' five-game winning streak.

Mike Shannon and Nelson Briles starred for he Cardinals. Shannon belted the first grand slam homer of his career and drove in another run with a single. Briles pitched a seven-hitter in recording his 16th triumph against seven losses.

Ken Holtzman, 8-9, was knocked out of the box in St. Louis' four-run first. John Edwards' two-run double capped the rally. Shannon's bases-filled homer greeted Bill Stoneman in the second. Stoneman relieved Jack Lamabe after Briles' single and two walks.

The four-game series in Chicago's Wrigley Field drew a total of 121,750 spectators.

Doug Rader's eighth inning run-scoring double broke a tie and gave the Astros their victory over the Phillies. Houston trailed 2-0 in the sixth, but Jim Wynn's 16th homer tied it.

The Phils had taken a 1-0 lead in the opening on Tony Taylor's double, an infield out and John Briggs' double. They added their second run in the fourth on singles by Briggs and Richie Allen, a walk to Tony Gonzalez and Cookie Rojas' sacrifice fly.

Rojas had a chance to win the game for Philadelphia in the ninth. However, reliever Danny Coombs fanned him with runners on second and third and two out. Dave Giusti, 7-12, was the winner. Dick Farrell, 3-5, working in relief of Woody Fryman, was the loser.

Carew Leads Twins To Split With Orioles

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Rod Carew might be the Amerian League's top hitter, but to the Baltimore Orioles he looks more like the league's leading runner—bad knee and all.

Minnesota's All-Star second baseman ran the Orioles out of a ball game Thursday night and left them standing still in their chase after league-leading Detroit which was idle.

The score was tied 1-1 and hits by Rich Reese and Tony Oliva put runners on first and third with one out. Carew grounded to shortstop Mark Belanger, whose throw to second baseman Dave Johnson fored Oliva. But Carew, shaking off his leg miseries, barely beat the return throw to first base as Reese scored the winning run for a 2-1 triumph and a split.

In the only other games, Boston blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0, California beat Washington 3-1 and Oakland slipped by the New York Yankees 4-3.

Carew, hitting .305, helped the Twins to a 3-0 lead in the first game against Jim Hardin when he singled in the first of three runs in the opening inning. Frank Quilici later doubled in the other two.

After that burst, the Twins and Carew folded. While Hardin, 15-8, held them scoreless the rest of the way and completed a six-hitter, the Orioles jumped on Dean Chance, 11-11.

Brooks Robinson started the comeback with a disputed home run, his 14th, in the second inning. The ball appeared to hit the left field wall but Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver protested that a fan had pushed it back onto the field and the umpires upheld his claim.

Then Larry Haney slugged his first homer to open the fifth and a hit by Don Buford, a double by Belanger and Curt Blefary's sacrifice fly followed. Third baseman Quilici let the throw from the outfield get away after Blefary's fly and the decisive run scored.

Carew pulled up lame two innings later, and rested his knee until the eighth of the nightcap when he turned on the speed.

Jim McGlothlin, 8-10, stopped the Senators on four hits in California's victory. After he gave up an unearned run in the first on two hits, an error and a double play, Tom Satriano put the Angeles ahead with a two-run single in the second against loser Frank Bertaina, 4-12.

Oakland jumped on Mel Stottlemyre, 15-10, for four runs in the fifth inning as Jim Pagliaroni hit a solo homer and Reggie Jackson a two-run shot, his 22nd. But the Yankees came back in the sixth on Mickey Mantle's 15th homer with two on, and only clutch relief pitching by Jack Aker and Lew Krausse held them off.

Gary Bell, 10-8, worked out of jams in the first and second inning and then retired 19 consecutive hitters en route to a four-hitter in Boston's triumph.

Cocky Murphy Leads Westchester Golf

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Bob Murphy is a cocky, confident young man, built along the lines of a miniature Jack Nicklaus, who holds a one-stroke lead going into today's second round of the $250,000 Westchester Classic Golf Tournament.

"Cocky?" He repeated the question after firing a blistering, eight-under-par 64 in Thursday's opening round over the sun-splashed Westchester Country Club course, a 6,648 yards, par 72 layout.

"I guess you could call it that. God gave me a good body, a good swing and a good mind. I think I can do things with them. If that's cocky, then I'm cocky."

Veteran Dan Sikes who finished second in last year's inaugural of this richester of the pro tournaments, had a 65 for second place. A former Masters champion Art Wall, Jr., had a 66 and defending champion Jack Nicklaus 67.

Murphy, 25, a former amateur and national collegiate champion, is in his rookie year as a pro. He didn't take up golf until he was 18, and that because of a football injury. He had hoped to make a career for himself as a baseball pitcher.

So far this season, he's made $23,828 on the tour.

His blistering assault which included an eagle, when he chipped in from 25 yards out, seven birdies and one bogey—on the 13th when he was in the deep rough twice—was the biggest battering given the course as par took a terrible beating.

Sikes had nine birdies—half his holes—in his round, on putts ranging from 6 to 30 feet. He had bogeys on Nos. 2 and 3, each time in a trap.

Following Nicklaus at four under par 68 was a group of six, including Gardner Dickinson, head of the players group now locked in a bitter dispute with the PGA; Bobby Nichols, Dudley Wysong, Bob Stanton of Australia, lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand, and Australia's Bruce Crampton.

There were 13 at 69—three-under-par—including Masters champ Bob Goalby and U.S. Open Champion Lee Trevino, each of whom had to rally to make it.

Arnold Palmer had a 71, but was well back in the pack as 56 in the field bettered par and 22 more matched it.

The field will be cut to the low 70 and ties after today's round —and it's barely possible that it may take par to do it.

PGA Fights Back At Pros Who Rebel

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The chasm between the Professional Golfers Association and the touring players, who have set up a rival organization, deepened today.

Max Elbin, president of the PGA, said he would ask the special meeting of the PGA Executive Committee at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. today for permission to poll each player and "ask him whether he is a PGA member or a member of the other group."

"If he wants to join the other group," Elbin said. "Then I would pull his card immediately."

Such an action would mean that the player would be suspended and ineligible to compete in further tournaments such as the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic next week at the Whitemarsh Country Club.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Oak Glen Gridders Enthusiastic

"These kids show more enthusiasm in one day than my teams in New Jersey showed in a week" says new coach Allen Hoover of his Oak Glen football squad.

"This is a better situation than I had hoped for," continues Hoover, a West Virginia native who was nonetheless unaware that a group of rabid sports boosters inhabits the tip of the state's northern panhandle. "The boys accept discipline well and are real hard workers", the coach notes. Not one of the 57 boys who came out for the team has quit the squad, and newer aspirants have boosted the strength of the group to 63.

But Hoover is well aware that more than enthusiasm is needed to win ball games. Oak Glen went 3-6-1 last year under Bob Starkey, and Hoover will not predict how this year's team will do, having just had the first workout in pads yesterday. He calls the schedule, which is almost the same as last year, tough. New foes are John Marshall, a jointure of Benwood Union and Moundsville, and Fairmont East.

There are 15 lettermen back, eight in the backfield. Hoover notes that there is some inexperience in the line. He hopes to have the Golden Bears be primarily a running team, though the top two runners of last season, Alan Six and Harold Marshall, have graduated, and starting quarterback Craig Whittington, who was hampered by injuries in 1967, returns.

At this early stage, the others running first team in the wing-I formation backfield are Greg Hobbs at halfback, Gary Masters at wingback and Steve Staley at fullback. All are lettermen, as are backs Karl Sayre, Dan Foltz and Larry Neptune, and quarterback Vic Reed. Reed is missing the early drills due to playing in the Colt League World Series in California.

Probably the best linemen on the squad are lettermen guards Tom McGeehan and Gerry Gray. Jim Wells and Jim Stine will back them. The center spot is devoid of lettermen, with John Mayhew and George Whitaker trying to fill the hole.

Oak Glen kicks off the grid son in the area, traveling to Weirton Madonna to play August 30.

Palmer Victor

The East Liverpool Colt League all - stars stayed alive in the Colt World Series at Riverside, Cal. last night, downing Springfield, Ill. 4-2 and eliminating the losers.

Tonight East Liverpool takes on West Covina, Cal., which is also 1-1 in tourney play. Hawaii and Santa Clara are also 1-1 and Riverside and Ft. Worth, Tex. are 2-0. Ft. Worth whipped Santa Clara 16-0 last night.

Hap Palmer went the distance to win for East Liverpool, yielding five hits. He also walked four, which got him in trouble, and fanned six.

East Liverpool jumped on loser Vandiner for three runs in the first. Scott Dubberly, Randy McVay and Kim Kemple singled for one run, with Kemple taking second on the play at the plate. Cecil Barker grounded to short, and McVay was out in a rundown, but Kemple and Barker moved into scoring position on the play and John Haney singled for two runs.

In the second the locals knocked out Vandiner. Dave Grimm doubled and took third on a single by Palmer. Grimm was out at home when Dubberly grounded to short, but McVay singled to score Palmer.

Springfield had scored in the first when Eisele walked and was forced by Crouch. The aptly - named catcher took third on an error and scored on a hit by Reedis.

In the third Palmer walked Capie and Eisele and the runners advanced on a passed ball. Palmer threw wildly trying to pick Capie off third and both runners apparently scored. But manager Don Smith appealed that Capie missed home plate and the umpires ruled Capie out. There was no further scoring by either team.

Smith says that he will pitch Jim Moore tonight.

Things may get worse before they get better for the Pirates. Some one wrote the other day that the Pirate players themselves can't understand how they keep losing with such talent. But just how good are the players? A look behind the scenes indicates the Pirates have more problems than the Harper Valley PTA. Roberto Clemente says he might retire next season if his injured shoulder doesn't get better. Donn Clendennon says he might retire next season if the fans keep booing him at Forbes Field. Gene Alley's career as a shortstop may be ended by his shoulder injury. Pulled muscles have forced Bill Mazeroski to play at far less than full effectiveness, both in the field and at bat. Maury Wills is getting to the age where he is starting to tire easily. Manny Mota, for some reason, can never hit if kept in the line-up for more than a few days at a time.

The Pirates are looking at the players they have and remembering the years they had in 1966, the year of the pennant near-miss. The players of 1968 are not the players of 1966, in the cases cited above.

IN THE expansion draft next season each club can protect 15 players. The Pirates will protect Willie Stargell, Matty Alou, Jerry May and Freddy Patek. Clemente and Mazeroski, unless they decide to retire, will be on the list. Minor league star thirdbaseman Richie Hebner will be protected, and probably minor league firstbaseman Bob Robertson. But Wills, Clendenon, Mota and Alley may be unprotected, as some pitchers must be on the list of 15. Bob Moose surely, also Bob Veale, Al McBean, Steve Blass and probably Dock Ellis. Dave Roberts of Columbus seems too good to let get away. But what about Tommy Sisk, Luke Walker, Jim Bunning, Elroy Face and Ron Kline? Their status will be up to the Pirate officials, mainly GM Joe Brown. He will have several painful decisions to make, but if certain players with injuries don't recover he may disregard sentiment and rebuild the Bucs with young players.

Blass Blanks Giants, Alou Gains On Rose

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The duel for the batting lead between Matty Alou and Pete Rose seems to be the last remnant of competition for a National League top position now that St. Louis has turned back the late challenge of the Chicago Cubs.

Only three points separate Alou and Rose today while the first-place Cardinals are 14 games in front of the runnerup Cubs.

Alou, 1966 NL batting king, cracked two hits in four tries Thursday night as the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked San Francisco 2-0 behind Steve Blass' four-hitter. The Cards walloped the Cubs 8-0 and Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2 in the only other National League games.

San Francisco's Willie McCovey has a commanding lead in homers and runs batted in with 30 and 77, respectively, while Juan Marichal, another Giant is a solid frontrunner in most pitching victories with 21.

Alou triggered a two-run Pirate first inning that carried Blass to his 10th victory against five defeats. Matty singled and later scored on Donn Clendenon's one-bagger. The second run came home when third baseman Jim Hart erred on Manny Mota's grounder.

Blass was in trouble only in the third inning when Jay Alou, Matty's brother, singled and moved to second on Hal Lanier's single. However, Blass got losing pitcher Bob Bolin, 6-4, on a pop foul and fanned Bobby Bonds and Ron Hunt. The setback ended the Giants' five-game winning streak.

Mike Shannon and Nelson Briles starred for he Cardinals. Shannon belted the first grand slam homer of his career and drove in another run with a single. Briles pitched a seven-hitter in recording his 16th triumph against seven losses.

Ken Holtzman, 8-9, was knocked out of the box in St. Louis' four-run first. John Edwards' two-run double capped the rally. Shannon's bases-filled homer greeted Bill Stoneman in the second. Stoneman relieved Jack Lamabe after Briles' single and two walks.

The four-game series in Chicago's Wrigley Field drew a total of 121,750 spectators.

Doug Rader's eighth inning run-scoring double broke a tie and gave the Astros their victory over the Phillies. Houston trailed 2-0 in the sixth, but Jim Wynn's 16th homer tied it.

The Phils had taken a 1-0 lead in the opening on Tony Taylor's double, an infield out and John Briggs' double. They added their second run in the fourth on singles by Briggs and Richie Allen, a walk to Tony Gonzalez and Cookie Rojas' sacrifice fly.

Rojas had a chance to win the game for Philadelphia in the ninth. However, reliever Danny Coombs fanned him with runners on second and third and two out. Dave Giusti, 7-12, was the winner. Dick Farrell, 3-5, working in relief of Woody Fryman, was the loser.

Carew Leads Twins To Split With Orioles

Associated Press Sports Writer

Rod Carew might be the Amerian League's top hitter, but to the Baltimore Orioles he looks more like the league's leading runner—bad knee and all.

Minnesota's All-Star second baseman ran the Orioles out of a ball game Thursday night and left them standing still in their chase after league-leading Detroit which was idle.

The score was tied 1-1 and hits by Rich Reese and Tony Oliva put runners on first and third with one out. Carew grounded to shortstop Mark Belanger, whose throw to second baseman Dave Johnson fored Oliva. But Carew, shaking off his leg miseries, barely beat the return throw to first base as Reese scored the winning run for a 2-1 triumph and a split.

In the only other games, Boston blanked the Chicago White Sox 3-0, California beat Washington 3-1 and Oakland slipped by the New York Yankees 4-3.

Carew, hitting .305, helped the Twins to a 3-0 lead in the first game against Jim Hardin when he singled in the first of three runs in the opening inning. Frank Quilici later doubled in the other two.

After that burst, the Twins and Carew folded. While Hardin, 15-8, held them scoreless the rest of the way and completed a six-hitter, the Orioles jumped on Dean Chance, 11-11.

Brooks Robinson started the comeback with a disputed home run, his 14th, in the second inning. The ball appeared to hit the left field wall but Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver protested that a fan had pushed it back onto the field and the umpires upheld his claim.

Then Larry Haney slugged his first homer to open the fifth and a hit by Don Buford, a double by Belanger and Curt Blefary's sacrifice fly followed. Third baseman Quilici let the throw from the outfield get away after Blefary's fly and the decisive run scored.

Carew pulled up lame two innings later, and rested his knee until the eighth of the nightcap when he turned on the speed.

Jim McGlothlin, 8-10, stopped the Senators on four hits in California's victory. After he gave up an unearned run in the first on two hits, an error and a double play, Tom Satriano put the Angeles ahead with a two-run single in the second against loser Frank Bertaina, 4-12.

Oakland jumped on Mel Stottlemyre, 15-10, for four runs in the fifth inning as Jim Pagliaroni hit a solo homer and Reggie Jackson a two-run shot, his 22nd. But the Yankees came back in the sixth on Mickey Mantle's 15th homer with two on, and only clutch relief pitching by Jack Aker and Lew Krausse held them off.

Gary Bell, 10-8, worked out of jams in the first and second inning and then retired 19 consecutive hitters en route to a four-hitter in Boston's triumph.

Cocky Murphy Leads Westchester Golf

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Bob Murphy is a cocky, confident young man, built along the lines of a miniature Jack Nicklaus, who holds a one-stroke lead going into today's second round of the $250,000 Westchester Classic Golf Tournament.

"Cocky?" He repeated the question after firing a blistering, eight-under-par 64 in Thursday's opening round over the sun-splashed Westchester Country Club course, a 6,648 yards, par 72 layout.

"I guess you could call it that. God gave me a good body, a good swing and a good mind. I think I can do things with them. If that's cocky, then I'm cocky."

Veteran Dan Sikes who finished second in last year's inaugural of this richester of the pro tournaments, had a 65 for second place. A former Masters champion Art Wall, Jr., had a 66 and defending champion Jack Nicklaus 67.

Murphy, 25, a former amateur and national collegiate champion, is in his rookie year as a pro. He didn't take up golf until he was 18, and that because of a football injury. He had hoped to make a career for himself as a baseball pitcher.

So far this season, he's made $23,828 on the tour.

His blistering assault which included an eagle, when he chipped in from 25 yards out, seven birdies and one bogey—on the 13th when he was in the deep rough twice—was the biggest battering given the course as par took a terrible beating.

Sikes had nine birdies—half his holes—in his round, on putts ranging from 6 to 30 feet. He had bogeys on Nos. 2 and 3, each time in a trap.

Following Nicklaus at four under par 68 was a group of six, including Gardner Dickinson, head of the players group now locked in a bitter dispute with the PGA; Bobby Nichols, Dudley Wysong, Bob Stanton of Australia, lefty Bob Charles of New Zealand, and Australia's Bruce Crampton.

There were 13 at 69—three-under-par—including Masters champ Bob Goalby and U.S. Open Champion Lee Trevino, each of whom had to rally to make it.

Arnold Palmer had a 71, but was well back in the pack as 56 in the field bettered par and 22 more matched it.

The field will be cut to the low 70 and ties after today's round —and it's barely possible that it may take par to do it.

PGA Fights Back At Pros Who Rebel

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The chasm between the Professional Golfers Association and the touring players, who have set up a rival organization, deepened today.

Max Elbin, president of the PGA, said he would ask the special meeting of the PGA Executive Committee at Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. today for permission to poll each player and "ask him whether he is a PGA member or a member of the other group."

"If he wants to join the other group," Elbin said. "Then I would pull his card immediately."

Such an action would mean that the player would be suspended and ineligible to compete in further tournaments such as the $100,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic next week at the Whitemarsh Country Club.

Oak Glen Gridders Enthusiastic

"These kids show more enthusiasm in one day than my teams in New Jersey showed in a week" says new coach Allen Hoover of his Oak Glen football squad.

"This is a better situation than I had hoped for," continues Hoover, a West Virginia native who was nonetheless unaware that a group of rabid sports boosters inhabits the tip of the state's northern panhandle. "The boys accept discipline well and are real hard workers", the coach notes. Not one of the 57 boys who came out for the team has quit the squad, and newer aspirants have boosted the strength of the group to 63.

But Hoover is well aware that more than enthusiasm is needed to win ball games. Oak Glen went 3-6-1 last year under Bob Starkey, and Hoover will not predict how this year's team will do, having just had the first workout in pads yesterday. He calls the schedule, which is almost the same as last year, tough. New foes are John Marshall, a jointure of Benwood Union and Moundsville, and Fairmont East.

There are 15 lettermen back, eight in the backfield. Hoover notes that there is some inexperience in the line. He hopes to have the Golden Bears be primarily a running team, though the top two runners of last season, Alan Six and Harold Marshall, have graduated, and starting quarterback Craig Whittington, who was hampered by injuries in 1967, returns.

At this early stage, the others running first team in the wing-I formation backfield are Greg Hobbs at halfback, Gary Masters at wingback and Steve Staley at fullback. All are lettermen, as are backs Karl Sayre, Dan Foltz and Larry Neptune, and quarterback Vic Reed. Reed is missing the early drills due to playing in the Colt League World Series in California.

Probably the best linemen on the squad are lettermen guards Tom McGeehan and Gerry Gray. Jim Wells and Jim Stine will back them. The center spot is devoid of lettermen, with John Mayhew and George Whitaker trying to fill the hole.

Oak Glen kicks off the grid son in the area, traveling to Weirton Madonna to play August 30.

Top Quarterback Needed For Steelers To Contend

By IRA MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—A year ago, Coach Bill Austin of the Pittsburgh Steelers recalls, he didn't have an experienced offensive tackle on the squad.

Today, five players are fighting for the jobs.

The same depth is evident at guard, and other positions—particularly on the line—and Austin, himself a former offensive lineman, figures this is one reason the Steelers will start the long climb upward.

Pittsburgh, which has never won a championship in the National Football League, should be improved along the line, in the running department, and on defense.

But the Steelers still have an unproven quarterback and, because of that, may not do much better than last year's 4-9-1.

A back injury has thrown Dick Shiner out of the running and given the quarterback job to second-year man Kent Nix. Nix took over last year when an injury sidelined Bill Nelsen.

The strong Steeler defense will have to be at its peak to survive and if it does, it may have a genuine shot at the Century Division title.

Speedy Don Shy, with a year's experience behind him, and Earl Gros, recovered from a knee injury, should be better as the running backs. J. R. Wilburn, presently sidelined with a hand injury, and Roy Jefferson give the Steelers two deep receiving threats.

But there are plenty of tackles and guards, perhaps even enough to trade for the other quick back Austin wants or the kicker he desperately needs.

John Hilton and Chet Anderson both return at tight end while Dick Compton gives another wide threat. Dick Hoak, Bill Asbury and Jim Butler are veteran running backs and rookies Rocky Bleier and Byron McCane are pushing them.

The kicking game needs definite improvement with Bill Shockley, trying to replace place-kicker Mike Clark, who was traded to Dallas after threatening to quit.

Defensively, the Steelers are strong as usual.

The front four are Lloyd Voss, Ken Kortas, Chuck Hinton and Ben McGee, and all are five-year veterans. Jerry Mazzanti and Dick Arndt are the No. 3 men at end and tackle, respectively.

John Campbell, Bill Saul and Bill Russell are the regular linebackers. Wednesday the Steelers picked up veteran linebacker Jerry Hillebrand from the St. Louis Cardinals for a high 1969 draft choice.

Austin is pleased with the secondary of Marv Woodson, Paul Martha, Clendon Thomas and Bob Hohn. Rookie Lou Harris may emerge as the No. 5 man.

Beating Joe Louis Gave Lee Elder Start

By WILL GRIMSEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — If the Internal Revenue boys are still wondering what happened to all of Joe Luois' ring earnings they might have a little chat with Lee Elder.

"I guess I've got a little of it," the 33-year-old Washington, D.C., tour golf rookie acknowledged today. "We've played a lot of golf, and we've backed ourselves pretty good with the pocket book."

You might say the Brown Bomber had an oblique role in launching Elder's tournament golf career, which promises to make him the most successful of Negro players.

Elder won the first of his five National United Golf Association (Negro) titles in 1951 at Cleveland. His victim in the finals was the golf-bitten former heavyweight ring champion.

"Joe still thinks he can lick the world on the golf course," Elder said. "He is quite a guy."

Elder is one of the newest sensations on the pro tour, rocketed into the national limelight last Sunday when he carried Jack Nicklaus five extra holes in a sudden death playoff for the American Golf Classic' $25,000 first prize.

Elder, son of a coal truck driver, was born in Dallas, moved to Los Angeles when he was six years old, returned to Dallas and started caddying at Tennyson Park when he was 15.

He won his first tournament—the Negro Texas State—when he was 17, and then he was off on a golf career.

A high school dropout, he worked around golf shops, turned pro in 1957 and didn't join the tour until this year.

Elder admitted he kept his head above water through a bit of hustling. He once shot nine holes in 38 on his knees and 41 for nine holes standing on one foot. He also played crosshand.

"I never had enough money and nobody to sponsor me," he explained. "Besides, I was afraid of the bent grass. I'd never played on bent grass."

He has won around $31,000 this year. He hopes to win a tournament and perhaps get invited to the Masters.

Steelers Get Kicker Bob Walden

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers will have a new kicker in their lineup Saturday night when they face San Diego in an exhibition pro football game.

Bobby Walden, a four - year National Football League veteran with the Minnesota Vikings, came to Pittsburgh Thursday for an undisclosed future draft choice.

Mature Defense Needed For Giant Title Chance

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — When the National Football League split itself four ways, New York was such a nice place to visit that everybody wanted to keep a piece of the Giants' action.

That's why sold-out Yankee Stadium should be a welcome sight for two of New York's new Capitol Divisoin rivals when they return this fall after a year's absence.

But if Allie Sherman has anything to say about it, the Giants will pull up the red carpet considerably short of their end zone.

Sherman's Giants, shifted from the Century Division to the Capitol this year under a 1966 realginment agreement worked out to offer continued New York exposure for all the Eastern Conference clubs, are pegging their 1968 title hopes on the maturity of a young and previously erratic defensive unit.

The Giants already have passed one stiff test, upsetting Green Bay's NFL champions 15-14 in their exhibition debut. But they'll probably need every preventive weapon they can muster in the Capitol race against the Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins, who didn't paly in New York last year, and the Philadelphia Eagles, who did.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton put the Giants back together again last season after their nightmarish 1966 collapse. But further improvement, particularly on defense, is a must if they expect to give Dallas' division favorites a run for the money.

"We think our offense, with Tarkenton, will be explosive again," says Sherman, beginning his eighth season as the Giant head coach "We expect it to remain at the same level, although, of course, we hope it'll be even better.

"We're looking for an upgrade of about 25 per cent on defense."

In 1967 the Giants had to score more touchdowns, 49, than any other NFL club for a 7-7 finish in the Century race. Tarkenton, sensational split end Homer Jones, hard-running Ernie Koy and their offensive cohorts put 369 points on the board. But the defense yielded 379.

Still, the defenders showed marked gains over the debacle of 1966, when they gave up an NFL record 501 points as the Giants tumbled to 1-12-1, their worst windup ever.

If the front four—Bruce Anderson, Roger Anderson, Bob Lurtsema and 13-year vet Jim Katcavage—can get to opposing passers more often than last season, they could take some pressure off an improving young secondary.

"I'd like to see us rush the passer better," Sherman concedes. "It's not a good as we'd like it to be."

The linebacking could be the club's strongest suit, with the return of the 1967 trio — Bill Swain, Vince Costello and Ken Avery—and the addition of ex-Packer Tommy Crutcher and rugged rookie Henry Davis.

Free safety Carl Lockhart and cornerback Scott Eaton are solid in the secondary. Willie Williams and Freeman white probably will be at cornerback and tight safety, respectively.

Last year, the Giants' attack thrived on the magic of Tarkenton, who passed for 3,088 yards and 29 touchdowns, ran for 396 yard and captivated New York fans with his ad-lib brilliance.

Jones caught 49 passes, averaging almost 25 yards per reception and scoring 14 TDs—high in the NFL. Tight end Aaron Thomas, 51 catches and nine touchdowns, and flanker Joe Morrison, 37 and seven also were standouts.

Up front, the only forseeable change involves tackle Steve Wright, who came to the Giants with Crutcher from Green Bay in a trade for tackle Francis Peay. He'll get a shot at right tackle. Left tackle Willie Young, guards Pete Case and Darrell Dess and center Greg Larson complete the interior.

Several rookies, among them Davis, offensive tackle Rich Busin, defensive end McKinley Boston, defensive back Bobby Duhon and flanker Joe Koontz, appear to have made the club.

Sherman approaches the Giants' season kickoff next month with guarded optimism

"I'm not looking at this thing through rose-colored glasses," he says, "but we're a better ball club than we were a year ago at this time.

"This has been the toughest camp we've ever had and the players are in the best shape in my memory at this stage. I think we're ready to move along now."

Bobcats Given Edge

Coaches Pick OU, Miami As MAC Contenders

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The MAC's coaches, ending a two-day grid preview here Wednesday, agreed that the Bobcats and Redskins are the teams to beat. Coach Bill Hess' Ohio squad, boasting a strong offense and seasoned performers, rates a slight edge.

"Our success depends on whether our defense comes along and does the job," said Hess, starting his 11th campaign with four championships in the bank.

Ohio shared the crown last year with upstart Toledo but needed a forfeit victory over Kent State to get a piece of the title. Hess is openly optimistic that Ohio can claim its first clear championship in five years.

The rotund coach beams when he talks about his offense. The attack is triggered by Cleve Bryant, a flashy run-and-pass quarterback; split end Todd Snyder, rated one of the best pass-catchers in the loop; and running backs Dick Conley, Dave LeVeck and Bob Houmard.

At Miami, Coach Bo Schembechler feels his Redskins are second to none. "We will be a better football team than a year ago. There is no question about it."

Toledo boss Frank Lauterbur faces the unenviable task of finding replacements for prolific John Schneider, the MAC's top passer in 1967, and brilliant middle guard Tom Beutler.

"If Steve Jones, a scrambling quarterback comes through, we'll have an exciting offense. He could make star running backs Roland Moss and Bob Pfefferle even tougher."

Defense Strong

Top Quarterback Needed For Steelers To Contend

By IRA MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LATROBE, Pa. (AP)—A year ago, Coach Bill Austin of the Pittsburgh Steelers recalls, he didn't have an experienced offensive tackle on the squad.

Today, five players are fighting for the jobs.

The same depth is evident at guard, and other positions—particularly on the line—and Austin, himself a former offensive lineman, figures this is one reason the Steelers will start the long climb upward.

Pittsburgh, which has never won a championship in the National Football League, should be improved along the line, in the running department, and on defense.

But the Steelers still have an unproven quarterback and, because of that, may not do much better than last year's 4-9-1.

A back injury has thrown Dick Shiner out of the running and given the quarterback job to second-year man Kent Nix. Nix took over last year when an injury sidelined Bill Nelsen.

The strong Steeler defense will have to be at its peak to survive and if it does, it may have a genuine shot at the Century Division title.

Speedy Don Shy, with a year's experience behind him, and Earl Gros, recovered from a knee injury, should be better as the running backs. J. R. Wilburn, presently sidelined with a hand injury, and Roy Jefferson give the Steelers two deep receiving threats.

But there are plenty of tackles and guards, perhaps even enough to trade for the other quick back Austin wants or the kicker he desperately needs.

John Hilton and Chet Anderson both return at tight end while Dick Compton gives another wide threat. Dick Hoak, Bill Asbury and Jim Butler are veteran running backs and rookies Rocky Bleier and Byron McCane are pushing them.

The front four are Lloyd Voss, Ken Kortas, Chuck Hinton and Ben McGee, and all are five-year veterans. Jerry Mazzanti and Dick Arndt are the No. 3 men at end and tackle, respectively.

John Campbell, Bill Saul and Bill Russell are the regular linebackers. Wednesday the Steelers picked up veteran linebacker Jerry Hillebrand from the St. Louis Cardinals for a high 1969 draft choice.

Austin is pleased with the secondary of Marv Woodson, Paul Martha, Clendon Thomas and Bob Hohn. Rookie Lou Harris may emerge as the No. 5 man.

Beating Joe Louis Gave Lee Elder Start

By WILL GRIMSEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — If the Internal Revenue boys are still wondering what happened to all of Joe Luois' ring earnings they might have a little chat with Lee Elder.

"I guess I've got a little of it," the 33-year-old Washington, D.C., tour golf rookie acknowledged today. "We've played a lot of golf, and we've backed ourselves pretty good with the pocket book."

You might say the Brown Bomber had an oblique role in launching Elder's tournament golf career, which promises to make him the most successful of Negro players.

Elder won the first of his five National United Golf Association (Negro) titles in 1951 at Cleveland. His victim in the finals was the golf-bitten former heavyweight ring champion.

"Joe still thinks he can lick the world on the golf course," Elder said. "He is quite a guy."

Elder is one of the newest sensations on the pro tour, rocketed into the national limelight last Sunday when he carried Jack Nicklaus five extra holes in a sudden death playoff for the American Golf Classic' $25,000 first prize.

Elder, son of a coal truck driver, was born in Dallas, moved to Los Angeles when he was six years old, returned to Dallas and started caddying at Tennyson Park when he was 15.

He won his first tournament—the Negro Texas State—when he was 17, and then he was off on a golf career.

A high school dropout, he worked around golf shops, turned pro in 1957 and didn't join the tour until this year.

Elder admitted he kept his head above water through a bit of hustling. He once shot nine holes in 38 on his knees and 41 for nine holes standing on one foot. He also played crosshand.

"I never had enough money and nobody to sponsor me," he explained. "Besides, I was afraid of the bent grass. I'd never played on bent grass."

He has won around $31,000 this year. He hopes to win a tournament and perhaps get invited to the Masters.

Midland Forfeits To HIHS 'B' Team

Steelers Get Kicker Bob Walden

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Steelers will have a new kicker in their lineup Saturday night when they face San Diego in an exhibition pro football game.

Bobby Walden, a four - year National Football League veteran with the Minnesota Vikings, came to Pittsburgh Thursday for an undisclosed future draft choice.

Mature Defense Needed For Giant Title Chance

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (AP) — When the National Football League split itself four ways, New York was such a nice place to visit that everybody wanted to keep a piece of the Giants' action.

That's why sold-out Yankee Stadium should be a welcome sight for two of New York's new Capitol Divisoin rivals when they return this fall after a year's absence.

But if Allie Sherman has anything to say about it, the Giants will pull up the red carpet considerably short of their end zone.

Sherman's Giants, shifted from the Century Division to the Capitol this year under a 1966 realginment agreement worked out to offer continued New York exposure for all the Eastern Conference clubs, are pegging their 1968 title hopes on the maturity of a young and previously erratic defensive unit.

The Giants already have passed one stiff test, upsetting Green Bay's NFL champions 15-14 in their exhibition debut. But they'll probably need every preventive weapon they can muster in the Capitol race against the Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins, who didn't paly in New York last year, and the Philadelphia Eagles, who did.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton put the Giants back together again last season after their nightmarish 1966 collapse. But further improvement, particularly on defense, is a must if they expect to give Dallas' division favorites a run for the money.

"We think our offense, with Tarkenton, will be explosive again," says Sherman, beginning his eighth season as the Giant head coach "We expect it to remain at the same level, although, of course, we hope it'll be even better.

"We're looking for an upgrade of about 25 per cent on defense."

In 1967 the Giants had to score more touchdowns, 49, than any other NFL club for a 7-7 finish in the Century race. Tarkenton, sensational split end Homer Jones, hard-running Ernie Koy and their offensive cohorts put 369 points on the board. But the defense yielded 379.

Still, the defenders showed marked gains over the debacle of 1966, when they gave up an NFL record 501 points as the Giants tumbled to 1-12-1, their worst windup ever.

If the front four—Bruce Anderson, Roger Anderson, Bob Lurtsema and 13-year vet Jim Katcavage—can get to opposing passers more often than last season, they could take some pressure off an improving young secondary.

"I'd like to see us rush the passer better," Sherman concedes. "It's not a good as we'd like it to be."

The linebacking could be the club's strongest suit, with the return of the 1967 trio — Bill Swain, Vince Costello and Ken Avery—and the addition of ex-Packer Tommy Crutcher and rugged rookie Henry Davis.

Free safety Carl Lockhart and cornerback Scott Eaton are solid in the secondary. Willie Williams and Freeman white probably will be at cornerback and tight safety, respectively.

Last year, the Giants' attack thrived on the magic of Tarkenton, who passed for 3,088 yards and 29 touchdowns, ran for 396 yard and captivated New York fans with his ad-lib brilliance.

Jones caught 49 passes, averaging almost 25 yards per reception and scoring 14 TDs—high in the NFL. Tight end Aaron Thomas, 51 catches and nine touchdowns, and flanker Joe Morrison, 37 and seven also were standouts.

Koy topped New York ball carriers with 704 rushing yards His backfield mate. Tucker Frederickson, who's coming off his second knee operation in two years, runs with abandon and blocks superbly—when he's healthy.

Several rookies, among them Davis, offensive tackle Rich Busin, defensive end McKinley Boston, defensive back Bobby Duhon and flanker Joe Koontz, appear to have made the club.

Sherman approaches the Giants' season kickoff next month with guarded optimism

"I'm not looking at this thing through rose-colored glasses," he says, "but we're a better ball club than we were a year ago at this time.

"This has been the toughest camp we've ever had and the players are in the best shape in my memory at this stage. I think we're ready to move along now."

Bobcats Given Edge

Coaches Pick OU, Miami As MAC Contenders

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ancient rivals Ohio University and Miami figure to battle for football supremacy in the Mid-American Conference this fall.

The MAC's coaches, ending a two-day grid preview here Wednesday, agreed that the Bobcats and Redskins are the teams to beat. Coach Bill Hess' Ohio squad, boasting a strong offense and seasoned performers, rates a slight edge.

"Our success depends on whether our defense comes along and does the job," said Hess, starting his 11th campaign with four championships in the bank.

Ohio shared the crown last year with upstart Toledo but needed a forfeit victory over Kent State to get a piece of the title. Hess is openly optimistic that Ohio can claim its first clear championship in five years.

The rotund coach beams when he talks about his offense. The attack is triggered by Cleve Bryant, a flashy run-and-pass quarterback; split end Todd Snyder, rated one of the best pass-catchers in the loop; and running backs Dick Conley, Dave LeVeck and Bob Houmard.

At Miami, Coach Bo Schembechler feels his Redskins are second to none. "We will be a better football team than a year ago. There is no question about it."

"Our basic problem last year was the lack of good passing. Thompson is an outstanding athlete, more relaxed and confident . . . he is explosive and his passing is much improved."

Toledo boss Frank Lauterbur faces the unenviable task of finding replacements for prolific John Schneider, the MAC's top passer in 1967, and brilliant middle guard Tom Beutler.

"If Steve Jones, a scrambling quarterback comes through, we'll have an exciting offense. He could make star running backs Roland Moss and Bob Pfefferle even tougher."

Probation Plea Studied By Court

LISBON — Melvin E. Lehman, 19, of Salem RD 5 appeared before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court Tuesday and was given permission to plead guilty to a criminal charge without waiting for the grand jury to consider the complaint.

He admitted breaking into a coin box at Arsuffi's Laundromat on S. Main St., Columbiana, last March. Columbiana police charged him last June and he was bound over to the grand jury July 8 after pleading not guilty before Judge D. Barry Dickson in Eastern Area Court at East Palestine.

Lehman asked the court for probation and Judge Buzzard ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report. He said Lehman may be released on his own recognizance after he completes a jail sentence next week for another offense.

He is serving a two - month County Jail sentence imposed by Judge Dickson June 24 for stealing four wheels and tires from a car owned by Columbiana Motors.

Louisiana Democrats To Vote On Saturday

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana Democratic voters go to the polls Saturday to select a nominee for the U.S. Senate—the only statewide race—and pick seven of eight candidates for the House of Representatives. A light turnout is forecast.

The incumbents, headed by Sen. Russell B. Long, are favored. There could be close races, however, in two congressional districts, some observers say.

Three Negroes seek Democratic congressional nominations and Republicans, a rarity on the registration rolls, have a race for one House nomination.

Bomb Threat Clears West Virginia Capitol

Col. W. L. Pike of the State Department of Public Safety said an unidentified male caller told a Capitol telephone operator:

"There's a bomb on the State Capitol."

A search of all public areas failed to uncover a bomb and the evacuation order was lifted at 5:20 p.m., Pike said.

Paper and pulp making is the premier industry of Canada. Each year, more than 120 million logs float down one tributary of the St. Lawrence River in the world's biggest and longest logging drive.

LBJ Told 140,000 Jobs Set For Hard-Core Unemployed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An executive of the National Alliance of Businessmen has told President Johnson that 140,000 jobs have been found for the hard-core unemployed.

But the report from Leo C. Beebe, NAB executive vice chairman, indicated the campaign met difficulties from both right wing and left wing elements and from politicians. Beebe was cautiously optimistic concerning the long-range effects of the program.

"We are under no illusions about the difficulty of closing the gap between the jobs and the jobless," said Beebe, a Ford Motor Co. vice president. "Success hinges on our ability to change human habits, those of the hard-core and our own.

"Nothing could be more difficult. There is no formula for success. Progress is obstructed from the right by those who resist change and from the left by those who expect change to occur overnight."

In a report to the President on the first six months of the NAB's jobs campaign, Beebe said the alliance had obtained 310,000 job commitments and placed 140,000 people on the job.

The NAB, launched last January, hopes to put 100,000 unemployed in jobs by next June and 500,000 by the summer of 1971.

Beebe said the employer who pledges a job for a hard-core worker in a suburban plant will be confronted with the problem of transportation from the city center to the suburbs.

"In time, commuting will prove to be impractical and the employer will see that the only solution to the dilemma is either to set up shop in the city or move the worker and his family to the suburb," Beebe said.

He said the gap between the jobs and the jobless is what the alliance is all about," Beebe said.

The NAB has not officially released Beebe's report, but a copy was made available to The Associated Press by an official of the organization.

"The alliance was anathema in some cities," the report said. programs of their own. Some openly opposed the alliance, others resisted more discreetly.

"Some of the opposition was political in nature, and the fact that we are in an election year continues to complicate the task."

Democrats, Labor Leaders Deny Gilligan Funds Report

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democrats and labor leaders denied Thursday reports that labor was withdrawing support from U.S Senate hopeful John J. Gilligan.

The New York Times said Thursday that financial support from organized labor was cut off because Gilligan had refused to commit himself to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey at a Democratic caucus here Monday.

Humphrey said Thursday in Newark, N. J.: "I am a Gilligan man . . . I look forward to his support after the convention just as he can count on my support now."

Frank W. King, president of the Ohio AFL - CIO, said that rumors that Gilligan "has lost support and financial backing of the Ohio AFL - CIO are completely without foundation."

"No deals have been made," said King. "No pledges of support money have been made."

Kricher said plans for the tour had been made 12 days ago, but observed: "My presence indicates support for Gilligan. I find it difficult to believe that labor, which supported him in the primary, would not support him in the fall election."

Democratic State Chairman Eugene P. O'Grady said, "The stories have in no instance originated from the Democratic state organization in Columbus."

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, Gilligan's Republican opponent for the Senate seat, said in a news conference at Cincinnati Thursday that he was "as much amazed as anyone else" at the reports.

He said it was "possible" the reports were true, but added he would like to await future developments before commenting himself.

Boy Escapes Injury In Bike-Car Collision

A 9-year-old boy escaped injury Thursday afternoon at 3:15 when he rode his bicycle out of a private driveway into the path of an auto in the 3200 block of St. Clair Ave., police reported.

The bicycle ridden by Melvin Werling, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Werling of St. Clair Ave. Ext., was hit by a southbound 1966 model four-door sedan driven by William D. Hughes, 46, of Euclid. Hughes said he swerved in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid hitting the bicycle. He took the boy to his home.

Meanwhile, a collision on E. 3rd St. west of Jefferson St. Thursday at 4:15 p. m. involved a 1958 auto operated by James L. Sturgill, 22, of Lisbon Rd., Hanoverton, and a 1951 sedan driven by James H. Gamble, 39, of 3rd Ave., LaCroft.

Great Salt Lake, Utah, is about six times as salty as the ocean.

Probation Plea Studied By Court

LISBON — Melvin E. Lehman, 19, of Salem RD 5 appeared before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard in Common Pleas Court Tuesday and was given permission to plead guilty to a criminal charge without waiting for the grand jury to consider the complaint.

He admitted breaking into a coin box at Arsuffi's Laundromat on S. Main St., Columbiana, last March. Columbiana police charged him last June and he was bound over to the grand jury July 8 after pleading not guilty before Judge D. Barry Dickson in Eastern Area Court at East Palestine.

Lehman asked the court for probation and Judge Buzzard ordered a pre-sentence investigation and report. He said Lehman may be released on his own recognizance after he completes a jail sentence next week for another offense.

He is serving a two - month County Jail sentence imposed by Judge Dickson June 24 for stealing four wheels and tires from a car owned by Columbiana Motors.

Louisiana Democrats To Vote On Saturday

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana Democratic voters go to the polls Saturday to select a nominee for the U.S. Senate—the only statewide race—and pick seven of eight candidates for the House of Representatives. A light turnout is forecast.

The incumbents, headed by Sen. Russell B. Long, are favored. There could be close races, however, in two congressional districts, some observers say.

Three Negroes seek Democratic congressional nominations and Republicans, a rarity on the registration rolls, have a race for one House nomination.

Bomb Threat Clears West Virginia Capitol

Col. W. L. Pike of the State Department of Public Safety said an unidentified male caller told a Capitol telephone operator:

"There's a bomb on the State Capitol."

A search of all public areas failed to uncover a bomb and the evacuation order was lifted at 5:20 p.m., Pike said.

Paper and pulp making is the premier industry of Canada. Each year, more than 120 million logs float down one tributary of the St. Lawrence River in the world's biggest and longest logging drive.

LBJ Told 140,000 Jobs Set For Hard-Core Unemployed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An executive of the National Alliance of Businessmen has told President Johnson that 140,000 jobs have been found for the hard-core unemployed.

But the report from Leo C. Beebe, NAB executive vice chairman, indicated the campaign met difficulties from both right wing and left wing elements and from politicians. Beebe was cautiously optimistic concerning the long-range effects of the program.

"We are under no illusions about the difficulty of closing the gap between the jobs and the jobless," said Beebe, a Ford Motor Co. vice president. "Success hinges on our ability to change human habits, those of the hard-core and our own.

"Nothing could be more difficult. There is no formula for success. Progress is obstructed from the right by those who resist change and from the left by those who expect change to occur overnight."

In a report to the President on the first six months of the NAB's jobs campaign, Beebe said the alliance had obtained 310,000 job commitments and placed 140,000 people on the job.

"The alliance is well ahead of schedule in is basic assignment," Beebe said.

The NAB, launched last January, hopes to put 100,000 unemployed in jobs by next June and 500,000 by the summer of 1971.

Beebe said the employer who pledges a job for a hard-core worker in a suburban plant will be confronted with the problem of transportation from the city center to the suburbs.

"In time, commuting will prove to be impractical and the employer will see that the only solution to the dilemma is either to set up shop in the city or move the worker and his family to the suburb," Beebe said.

He said the gap between the jobs and the jobless is what the alliance is all about," Beebe said.

The NAB has not officially released Beebe's report, but a copy was made available to The Associated Press by an official of the organization.

"The alliance was anathema in some cities," the report said. programs of their own. Some openly opposed the alliance, others resisted more discreetly.

"Some of the opposition was political in nature, and the fact that we are in an election year continues to complicate the task."

Democrats, Labor Leaders Deny Gilligan Funds Report

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Democrats and labor leaders denied Thursday reports that labor was withdrawing support from U.S Senate hopeful John J. Gilligan.

The New York Times said Thursday that financial support from organized labor was cut off because Gilligan had refused to commit himself to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey at a Democratic caucus here Monday.

Humphrey said Thursday in Newark, N. J.: "I am a Gilligan man . . . I look forward to his support after the convention just as he can count on my support now."

Frank W. King, president of the Ohio AFL - CIO, said that rumors that Gilligan "has lost support and financial backing of the Ohio AFL - CIO are completely without foundation."

"No deals have been made," said King. "No pledges of support money have been made."

Kricher said plans for the tour had been made 12 days ago, but observed: "My presence indicates support for Gilligan. I find it difficult to believe that labor, which supported him in the primary, would not support him in the fall election."

Democratic State Chairman Eugene P. O'Grady said, "The stories have in no instance originated from the Democratic state organization in Columbus."

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, Gilligan's Republican opponent for the Senate seat, said in a news conference at Cincinnati Thursday that he was "as much amazed as anyone else" at the reports.

He said it was "possible" the reports were true, but added he would like to await future developments before commenting himself.

ANN LANDERS

Crabby About Crew Cuts

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I used to think you were a friend of us teens but now I know you're our enemy.

I didn't mind when you put the knock on long hair for boys. Most square middle-aged people feel the same way. But when you said you hoped the crew cut would come back because it is CLEAN LOOKING, I almost popped a blood vessel!

The crew cut is the most repulsive looking hair style ever created. It makes a guy look like he is ready for the electric chair. It is dumb to chop off a fellow's hair and make him look bald. Baldness comes soon enough.

Anybody who would come out in favor of the crew cut is probably wearing high-button shoes and using a marcel iron. Why don't you retire, Annie? You are too old for the job. — CHICKEN.

Dear Chicken: To each his own, bub. I still like the crew cut. Shame on you for trying to put an old lady out on the street. You get five raps across the knuckles with my marcel iron!

Pill Diet

Dear Ann: My husband is in the drug business. He's been taking just about every kind of pill you can think of for 20 years.

At first it was pep pills to help him through the long hours. Then he had to take tranquilizers to calm his jumpy nerves. Next it was sleeping pills. Now he has to take pills to get him moving in the morning.

Since he is in the business he can lay his hands on all the pills he wants.

We've been married for 23 years. Our sex life is terrible. Most of the time he is impotent. I'm sure the pills are to blame. When I try to explain this to him he gets mad and says, "The REAL reason we have such a lousy love life is because you don't have any sex appeal any more."

Pills have ruined our marriage and killed my love for my husband. Please, Ann, tell your readers to stay away from them. — NO CITY PLEASE.

Dear No: Indiscriminate use of pills can be extremely dangerous, and I've repeatedly warned my readers about this. In your husband's case the pills have apparently taken their toll.

Pills often mask symptoms of emotional illness and deceive a user into believing he is okay. I hope your husband will go to a physician and level with him before he suffers a complete collapse.

At Ease

Dear Ann: I work for a high-powered businessman who has many peculiarities but I'm willing to overlook his oddities because I love my job, the pay is excellent and I keep meeting so many interesting people through this work. I'd hate to leave.

The thing that bothers me most is that my boss used to be a major in the U.S. Army and he behaves as if he's still giving orders to the troops.

He insists that I say "Sir" when I speak to him. Strangely enough, after office hours he wants me to have a drink with him and he becomes overly friendly. I have no interest in getting involved with the man (he's married and 22 years my senior).

Do you have any advice on how I can keep my job AND my self-respect? — STAFF SERGEANT.

Dear Sarge: Say "Yes, sir" from 9 until 5. After 5, say "No, sir."

..An Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Wallace Would Sweep Ohio, Top Aide Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George C. Wallace will sweep Ohio in November if he gets on the presidential ballot, one of his top aides said here Thursday.

Wallace has more support in Ohio than in any other state, said Stan Sikes of Montgomery, Ala., an attorney and one of Wallace's national campaign coordinators.

Wallace, the American Independent Party candidate, is battling to have his name placed on the Ohio ballot. Sikes said Wallace's name would be on the ballots of the 49 other states, without question.

Crucible And Colt Slate Meetings To OK Merger

The Crucible Steel Corp. and Colt Industries have set Sept. 30 as the date for stockholder meetings to consider the final approval of merger of the two industries.

The boards of directors of both firms at a meeting in Pittsburgh Thursday signed a formal consolidation agreement and set the date for the simultaneous stockholders' sessions.

Stockholders of record Sept. 3 in each company will be entitled to vote at the special meeting.

The Colt Industries session will be convened in the auditorium foyer of the Prudential Building, Prudential Plaza, Chicago, at 10 a. m.

The Crucible meeting will be held in the King's Plaza of the Pittsburgh - Hilton Hotel, Pittsburgh, at 11 a.m.

Colt already owns 983,004 shares of Crucible, representing about 23 per cent of the 4,278,002 shares of Crucible outstanding.

Under the terms of the agreement, Colt and Crucible would be consolidated through a tax-free exchange of securities. A new Delaware corporation would be formed under the name of Colt Industries, Inc.

The board of directors of the new company will include all the members of the present Colt Industries board plus three others nominated by Crucible. Crucible will be operated by its present management under the presidency of John C. Lobb as a wholly - owned subsidiary of expanded Colt Industries. Lobb will also be one of the three Crucible nominees on the Colt Industries board.

The agreement calls for the exchange of 0.41 of a share of common stock in the new company and 0.23 of a share of a new $4.25 convertible preferred for each share of Crucible common outstanding in the hands of the public at the time of the consolidation. The preferred, with a liquidating value of $100, would be convertible into 1.35 shares of the new common stock.

The consolidation terms also provide for the automatic exchange of all presently outstanding Colt common and preferred shares for comparable shares of the new company on a share-for-share basis. Present holders will not need to exchange their certificates for new ones.

ANN LANDERS

Crabby About Crew Cuts

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I used to think you were a friend of us teens but now I know you're our enemy.

I didn't mind when you put the knock on long hair for boys. Most square middle-aged people feel the same way. But when you said you hoped the crew cut would come back because it is CLEAN LOOKING, I almost popped a blood vessel!

The crew cut is the most repulsive looking hair style ever created. It makes a guy look like he is ready for the electric chair. It is dumb to chop off a fellow's hair and make him look bald. Baldness comes soon enough.

Anybody who would come out in favor of the crew cut is probably wearing high-button shoes and using a marcel iron. Why don't you retire, Annie? You are too old for the job. — CHICKEN.

Dear Chicken: To each his own, bub. I still like the crew cut. Shame on you for trying to put an old lady out on the street. You get five raps across the knuckles with my marcel iron!

Pill Diet

Dear Ann: My husband is in the drug business. He's been taking just about every kind of pill you can think of for 20 years.

At first it was pep pills to help him through the long hours. Then he had to take tranquilizers to calm his jumpy nerves. Next it was sleeping pills. Now he has to take pills to get him moving in the morning.

Since he is in the business he can lay his hands on all the pills he wants.

We've been married for 23 years. Our sex life is terrible. Most of the time he is impotent. I'm sure the pills are to blame. When I try to explain this to him he gets mad and says, "The REAL reason we have such a lousy love life is because you don't have any sex appeal any more."

Pills have ruined our marriage and killed my love for my husband. Please, Ann, tell your readers to stay away from them. — NO CITY PLEASE.

Dear No: Indiscriminate use of pills can be extremely dangerous, and I've repeatedly warned my readers about this. In your husband's case the pills have apparently taken their toll.

Pills often mask symptoms of emotional illness and deceive a user into believing he is okay. I hope your husband will go to a physician and level with him before he suffers a complete collapse.

At Ease

Dear Ann: I work for a high-powered businessman who has many peculiarities but I'm willing to overlook his oddities because I love my job, the pay is excellent and I keep meeting so many interesting people through this work. I'd hate to leave.

The thing that bothers me most is that my boss used to be a major in the U.S. Army and he behaves as if he's still giving orders to the troops.

He insists that I say "Sir" when I speak to him. Strangely enough, after office hours he wants me to have a drink with him and he becomes overly friendly. I have no interest in getting involved with the man (he's married and 22 years my senior).

Do you have any advice on how I can keep my job AND my self-respect? — STAFF SERGEANT.

Dear Sarge: Say "Yes, sir" from 9 until 5. After 5, say "No, sir."

An Lannders will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Wallace Would Sweep Ohio, Top Aide Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George C. Wallace will sweep Ohio in November if he gets on the presidential ballot, one of his top aides said here Thursday.

Wallace has more support in Ohio than in any other state, said Stan Sikes of Montgomery, Ala., an attorney and one of Wallace's national campaign coordinators.

Wallace, the American Independent Party candidate, is battling to have his name placed on the Ohio ballot. Sikes said Wallace's name would be on the ballots of the 49 other states, without question.

Youths Fined For Speeding

Two youthful motorcycle riders were fined $25 and costs each today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after pleading guilty to charges of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St.

Keith A. Matheny, 18, of 1004 St. Clair Ave. and Thomas C. Schmidbauer, 18, of Shadyside Ave. were cited Aug. 1 at 8:35 p.m. by the Ohio Highway Patrol on the four-lane street near Lisbon St. The patrol reported both accelerated rapidly when pulling away from a traffic light.

Given the option of a 30-day license suspension or a $25 fine, both decided to pay the fine. In addition, Schmidbauer was fined $10 and costs on a charge of riding a motorcycle without wearing a protective eye device on his helmet.

The judge fined four others accused of speeding.

Richard J. Frankel, 23, of 1100 Pennsylvania Ave. paid a fine of $20 and costs after pleading guilty to speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 7 at 9:30 p.m. on Route 7.

Fines of $15 and costs were imposed on the other three. All accused of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Sunday on Route 7, the defendants were: Morris McCuen, 20, of 1036 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, Janice Hetrick, 28, of Columbiana, and Harold L. Burns Jr., 19, of Minerva.

Judge Penalizes 5 Drivers Cited In Speed Cases

Five motorists cited for speeding were penalized at hearings before County Judge Barry Dickson Thursday at East Palestine. Two others were cleared of speeding charges.

Fined were Robert A. Pucci of 712 Diamond St., Wellsville, and Chester Inboden of Hisey Rd., New Waterford, $25 and costs each; Robert L. Heinry of 1021 St. George St., $35 and costs; Ruth Cook of E. North Ave., East Palestine, $20 and costs, and Thomas Neely of New Waterford RD 1, $5 and costs.

Found not guilty of speeding were Gerald Lipp of State St., New Waterford, and Arnold Green of Rogers. Richard Johnson of W. Rebecca St., East Palestine, charged with speeding, failed to appear and was sent a court notice.

Others fined yesterday were Robert G. Welce of Rogers RD 1 and Judy A. Shasteen of 969 Ohio Ave., East Liverpool, $5 and costs each for passing at a railroad crossing; Robert G. Williams of New Waterford RD 1, $15 and costs for improper passing.

Forfeiting $25 bonds were James Chadwell of the Victoria Motel, Lisbon, failure to dim headlights; Terry Richards of Rogers RD 1, unsafe vehicle, and Robert Boyles of Alice St., East Palestine, a stop sign violation.

Tools Are Taken From Area Firm

LISBON — Hand tools for carpentry and mechanical work valued at $400 were stolen from R. & H. Builders Supply east of Minerva Wednesday night.

John Weaver, vice president and general manager, told Sheriff's Deputy Robert Wellington the tools were taken from a display. Several, valued at $100, were found outside the building Thursday morning.

Wellington said the thief entered by cutting a hole in a fiberboard door at the rear of the lumber storage building. He then forced a lock into the millwork room and connected salesroom.

Builders Supply is on Route 30 about 100 feet inside the Columbiana County line. Wellington said footprints were visible along the railroad tracks from the lumberyard to a crossing 500 feet inside Minerva.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARD OF THANKS

My sudden loss, the death of my beloved husband, Robert Prescott, has left an emptiness in my heart that can never be wholly filled, but the many kind words and acts of sympathy from my friends and relatives have helped immeasurably. I am deeply grateful to the Rev. James Miller, Martin Funeral Home and pallbearers, Plant No. 8 of Homer Laughlin China Co., and the employees of McIntosh-Hemphill. — Wife and children.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all the persons who assisted in aiding our son, Charles Weatherspoon, at the scene of the accident, July 21st. A special thanks to Mr. John Bennett and also Haugh's Ambulance Service, the doctors and nurses at City Hospital who were in attendance. Many thanks also for all the cards and contributions that Charles has received. Mr. and Mrs. George Petties.

Youths Fined For Speeding

Two youthful motorcycle riders were fined $25 and costs each today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after pleading guilty to charges of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on W. 8th St.

Keith A. Matheny, 18, of 1004 St. Clair Ave. and Thomas C. Schmidbauer, 18, of Shadyside Ave. were cited Aug. 1 at 8:35 p.m. by the Ohio Highway Patrol on the four-lane street near Lisbon St. The patrol reported both accelerated rapidly when pulling away from a traffic light.

Given the option of a 30-day license suspension or a $25 fine, both decided to pay the fine. In addition, Schmidbauer was fined $10 and costs on a charge of riding a motorcycle without wearing a protective eye device on his helmet.

The judge fined four others accused of speeding.

Richard J. Frankel, 23, of 1100 Pennsylvania Ave. paid a fine of $20 and costs after pleading guilty to speeding 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Aug. 7 at 9:30 p.m. on Route 7.

Fines of $15 and costs were imposed on the other three. All accused of driving 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone Sunday on Route 7, the defendants were: Morris McCuen, 20, of 1036 Anderson Ave., Wellsville, Janice Hetrick, 28, of Columbiana, and Harold L. Burns Jr., 19, of Minerva.

Judge Penalizes 5 Drivers Cited In Speed Cases

Five motorists cited for speeding were penalized at hearings before County Judge Barry Dickson Thursday at East Palestine. Two others were cleared of speeding charges.

Fined were Robert A. Pucci of 712 Diamond St., Wellsville, and Chester Inboden of Hisey Rd., New Waterford, $25 and costs each; Robert L. Heinry of 1021 St. George St., $35 and costs; Ruth Cook of E. North Ave., East Palestine, $20 and costs, and Thomas Neely of New Waterford RD 1, $5 and costs.

Found not guilty of speeding were Gerald Lipp of State St., New Waterford, and Arnold Green of Rogers. Richard Johnson of W. Rebecca St., East Palestine, charged with speeding, failed to appear and was sent a court notice.

Others fined yesterday were Robert G. Welce of Rogers RD 1 and Judy A. Shasteen of 969 Ohio Ave., East Liverpool, $5 and costs each for passing at a railroad crossing; Robert G. Williams of New Waterford RD 1, $15 and costs for improper passing.

Forfeiting $25 bonds were James Chadwell of the Victoria Motel, Lisbon, failure to dim headlights; Terry Richards of Rogers RD 1, unsafe vehicle, and Robert Boyles of Alice St., East Palestine, a stop sign violation.

Tools Are Taken From Area Firm

LISBON — Hand tools for carpentry and mechanical work valued at $400 were stolen from R. & H. Builders Supply east of Minerva Wednesday night.

John Weaver, vice president and general manager, told Sheriff's Deputy Robert Wellington the tools were taken from a display. Several, valued at $100, were found outside the building Thursday morning.

Wellington said the thief entered by cutting a hole in a fiberboard door at the rear of the lumber storage building. He then forced a lock into the millwork room and connected salesroom.

Builders Supply is on Route 30 about 100 feet inside the Columbiana County line. Wellington said footprints were visible along the railroad tracks from the lumberyard to a crossing 500 feet inside Minerva.

LEGAL NOTICE

Notice of Election on Tax Levy in Excess of the Ten Mill Limitation
Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

NOTICE is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Education of the East Liverpool City School District, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 1st day of July, 1968, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said East Liverpool City School District at a SPECIAL ELECTION to be held in the East Liverpool City School District, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 17th day of September, 1968, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the East Liverpool City School District for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for repair and maintenance of school property.

Said tax being a renewal of an existing tax of One (1) mill to run for a continuing period of time at a rate not exceeding One (1) mill for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Ten Cents ($0.10) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for a continuing period of time beginning in the tax year 1970.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A.M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P.M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

3 CARD OF THANKS

My sudden loss, the death of my beloved husband, Robert Prescott, has left an emptiness in my heart that can never be wholly filled, but the many kind words and acts of sympathy from my friends and relatives have helped immeasurably. I am deeply grateful to the Rev. James Miller, Martin Funeral Home and pallbearers, Plant No. 8 of Homer Laughlin China Co., and the employees of McIntosh-Hemphill. — Wife and children.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all the persons who assisted in aiding our son, Charles Weatherspoon, at the scene of the accident, July 21st. A special thanks to Mr. John Bennett and also Haugh's Ambulance Service, the doctors and nurses at City Hospital who were in attendance. Many thanks also for all the cards and contributions that Charles has received. Mr. and Mrs. George Petties.

Junior Editors Quiz on MUSIC

QUESTION: How did people come to make music?

ANSWER: Men have appreciated music ever since recorded history began. The Bible mentions many instruments and shows clearly how music was used to express the joys, as well as the sorrows, of the Hebrew people. It seems probable to many that music originated in connection with dancing and singing. Imagine a group of healthy, young, cave teen-agers, as shown in our picture. What more natural than that, after sharing a good dinner, they should start a dance step around a cheerful fire, or get a rhythmical beat going by clapping hands? It would be natural, too, to imagine shouting or chanting as part of a celebration, and to suppose that, as time went on, melody would appear and we would have music rather than just noise. Various instruments would be invented to heighten the effect — hollow logs, leading to drums, primitive zinks and panpipes leading to modern wind instruments. The beautiful harp was made in the city of Ur, about 5,000 years ago. To realize the emphasis the writers of the past put on music, read the magnificent 150th psalm in the Bible.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Double Cap For Shower

DEAR HELOISE: When I take a shower I use two shower caps, one larger than the other. The smaller one goes next to my head and the larger one goes over that. When the shower is over, I remove the top, drippy cap. The inner cap, which is perfectly dry, keeps my long hair from falling down and getting wet or in the way while I am drying myself. CECELIA McKIE.

Heloise

DEAR HELOISE: Our one-year-old baby loves to crawl. Her baby shoes are quite expensive and in a couple of weeks she wore holes in the toes.

Solved our problem.
MRS. KENNETH PETERS.

DEAR HELOISE: To protect varnished exterior doors from getting weather-beaten, I apply two coats of automobile wax to the outside surface.

It sure keeps them looking nice.
KATHY.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

DEAR HELOISE: Some of us are good housekeepers and some of us are not. Know why? Some of us never finish what we start.

Before we are through cleaning we start ironing, before we're through ironing, we start to bake. And instead of washing up all those dishes and pans, we start sewing.

From experience I've learned that if I only tackle one job at a time and finish that job and everything connected with it, that housekeeping is not a bad job at all, but a joy.
MRS. H. K.P.

I wonder if she tells fortunes, or if she has been a guest in my home?
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If I have a cantaloupe which is too large to use in one day, I slice the remainder into small pieces. Remove the skin and put the cantaloupe pieces in a tight fruit jar.

By doing this, I don't get the melon flavor in the other foods in my refrigerator. Also these small pieces are handy and ready for breakfast or side dinner dishes.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I freeze ice in those little plastic margarine tubs. They're larger than a regular ice cube and last longer.

VSTA FRIZZELL.

DEAR HELOISE: Our sorority had a "Heloise Party"! Each member was to make something either original, or something they had read about in your column.

The main requirement was that they were to make it from something they had on hand and were not allowed to buy anything to use. You'd be surprised at the cute ideas some of the girls came up with. There was a prize awarded for the most original.

We then drew for the gifts and each had a nice gift to take home. The party was a huge success.
LILLIAN SHEFFIELD.

Bless you, Lillian.
I roared with laughter when I read this and wondered if anybody brought a piece of net or a bottle of vinegar!
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you know that our old stand-by nylon net is the best thing ever to clean patent leather shoes? The net will remove scrape marks, and smudges, and doesn't scratch the shiny finish of my shoes.

I have cleaned a pair of my white patent shoes this way for two summers and they still look like new.
LIZ GARRETT.

Wooster Auditorium Dedicated By Rhodes

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes dedicated a $1.56 million auditorium at the Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center near Wooster Thursday—and sang in the first performance on its stage.

At ceremonies ending a week-long open house at the center, Rhodes accepted an invitation to join the All - Ohio Youth Chorus in "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

FBI Continuing Quiet Probe Of Cleveland Riot

WASHINGTON AP — The FBI is continuing a quiet investigation of the July 23 violence in Cleveland, and the Justice Department is holding off on a decision whether to start a grand jury investigation.

A letter was made public Thursday in which Asst. U.S. Atty. Fred M. Vinson told Rep. Wiliam E. Minshall, R-Ohio, on Aug. 5 that:

"We do not feel it necessary at this time to call a special session of the grand jury but we are keeping the possibility in mind as we review information being given to us by those on the scene in Cleveland."

The letter was in reply to a demand by Minshall that Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark order a grand jury investigation. Minshall mentioned reports that black militants in Cleveland still have a sizable arsenal, including machine guns and 60mm mortar.

A sniper attack on policemen in an East Side neighborhood began the July 23 outburst of street gunfire. Ten persons, including three policemen, died.

Absenteeism Halts Steel Plant Production

Officials said 650 workers were idled and the absenteeism was a violation of the no-strike clause in the labor agreement with the United Steel Workers.

Members of USW Local 3523 said they were meeting to discuss local contract issues and the suspension of nine employes during a strike earlier this month.

An active separatist movement has persisted in Wales ever since Henry VIII welded it to England in 1536.

Lisbon Area News

Mrs. Esther DeTemple 424-5965

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Pike and sons C. Ashley and Robbie of Prospect St. returned home Monday evening from Florida, where he served as a delegate from the 18th congressional district during the Republican convention.

The Pikes' sons attended a party at the Hilton Plaza Hotel given by Tricia and Julie Nixon and David Eisenhower for teenagers attending the convention.

Mrs. Pike attended a tea to which the wives of the delegates and alternates were invited to meet Mrs. Nixon and her daughters.

The present Miss Majorette is Laura Conkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Conkle of W. Washington St.

Citizens Present Program

The meeting opened at 11:30 a.m. with Scripture and prayer. August birthdays were honored. Dinner followed.

Skits, songs, recitations and poems featured the entertainment. Taking part were Margaret Galbreath, Blanch Bitner, Etta Fraser, Rose Cornelli, Alda Brooks, Greta Kinsey, Rene Wilson and Ruth McKee.

Mrs. Dunn of the local club led group singing.

Church Group Meets

Teachers and officers of the First Christian Church Sunday School met Wednesday evening at the Morgan House.

Mrs. George Berdine was in charge of the business session when plans were discussed for Rally Day.

Mrs. Ben Wilson and Miss Karen Vietz were hostesses.

Club Plays Putt-Putt

Members of the East End 500 Club Wednesday night went to Alliance to play putt-putt. Mrs. Vera Powell's birthday was observed.

The next meeting will be Aug. 28.

Polling Begins Today In Unofficial Primary

Some 600 polling places in 40 counties will be open from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. and 4 to 8 p. m. today and Saturday.

Sen. Stephen M. Young of Ohio said Thursday the primary "gives all Ohio Democrats the right to express themselves and have their votes counted now."

Young said the results will be announced Sunday and they "will not go unnoticed by delegates from Ohio and by delegates throughout the nation."

McCulloch electric starting chain saw.

Now you can push a button and start either of two new McCulloch chain saws. How? A completely self-contained starter/generator gives you fast, safe starts everytime—recharges the long-life batteries as you cut. Oils its chain automatically, too. All this and still lighter than most ordinary saws! And it's the world's safest to start . . . you start with both hands on it. Come in and try one today.
